

GERMAN CAVALRY MASSED NEAR LILLE AT EXTREME NORTH OF BATTLE FRONT

LEFT WING OF ALLIED ARMY EXTENDS MORE WIDELY REACHING TO WITHIN TEN MILES OF BELGIUM.

Paris Claims That Anglo-French Armies Are Making Gains North of Soissons — German Attack on Lassigny Fails.

The official silence maintained for the past twelve hours over the operations of the Allies in north-eastern France, was broken today by an official statement from Paris. This sets forth that the left wing of the allied army was extending more and more widely; that strong forces of German cavalry had appeared in the vicinity of Lille, in the department of Nord; that between the Somme and the Oise there has been alternate advances and withdrawals and that a German attack near Lassigny had failed. North of Soissons the Allies have advanced. The rest of the front shows no change.

The disclosure that the operations on the western end of the great battle line have reached the vicinity of Lille places the Germans in strength at a point easily within ten miles of the Belgian frontier. Taking Lassigny as the elbow of the French battle line, it now extends roughly for 80 miles due north.

In spite of the fact that the French yesterday were compelled to yield ground before the German attack on their left the confidence in the ultimate success of this flanking movement favor of the Allies is described in a Paris dispatch as undiminished. French military critics refused to attach any importance to the set back announced in Paris yesterday. Great Britain also is described as optimistic concerning the nature of the revelations.

No confirmation has come from any German source of the reported removal by Emperor William of Field Marshal Von Moltke from the post of chief of the German general staff, and the succession by Major General Von Voigts-Rhetz. This story was received in London last night from Amsterdam. General Von Voigts-Rhetz, according to an official announcement from Berlin last Saturday, was recently appointed quartermaster general of the German army in place of General Von Stein, who has been given command of an army corps.

The Japanese navy department in explaining the operations of the Island Juleit, one of the Marcell groups in the south Pacific, declares the move was made for military purposes and not for permanent occupation.

French troops are well established in Alsace, according to a news dispatch from Belfort, France, and the German forces before them are not numerous.

Another newspaper correspondent telegraphs that the French are fortified in excellent positions in the Vosges.

A second Russian army is now threatening the town of Huszt in eastern Hungary, according to a news dispatch from Rome. Huszt is forty miles from the boundary of Galicia which is near the crest of the Carpathian mountains.

Paris, October 6, 3:44 p. m.—The following official communication was given out this afternoon:

"On our left wing the front is extending more and more widely. Very important masses of German cavalry have been reported in the environs of Lille, coming from forces of the enemy, which are making a movement in the region of the north of the line between Tournai (in the department of Nord seven miles north-east of Lille), and Armentieres, (nine miles northwest of Lille.)

"In the vicinity of Arras, and on the right bank of the river Somme, the situation shows little change. Between the Somme and the Oise there has been alternate advances and withdrawals, the enemy undertook an important attack which, however, failed.

"On the right bank of the Aisne, north of Soissons, we have with the co-operation of the British army made a slight advance. We also made some progress in the vicinity of Berry-au-Bac.

"There is nothing to report from the rest of the front.

"In Belgium the Belgian forces defending Antwerp have occupied strongly the line between the river Rupel, and the river Nethe, against this line the attack of the Germans have failed."

Germans Take Meuse Forts.

Berlin, wireless to Sayville, L. I., Oct. 6.—An order of the day, written by General Von Hoesen and published officially today says that forts Camp Des-Bois on the river Meuse near St. Mehl after a number of hard fights has been taken by the Germans. Five French officers and more than five hundred men were made prisoners. The remainder of the French force remained in the ruins of the casemates. It is officially stated that the Russians were completely defeated near Suwalki and Augustow on the East Prussian frontier October 1 and 2. The Germans made 3,000 prisoners and captured 18 cannons and many machine guns. The situation is, it is announced, most hopeful everywhere for the Germans and Austrians.

News Scarce in London.

London, Oct. 6.—Never since its start has the battle of the Aisne which has now become virtually a siege of the German position on the Oise, and north of this river, shown such a scarcity of news as on the 25th day of the struggle.

The British information bureau completely closed down on current events from the front several days ago, and it probably will so continue until Sir John French puts his army in motion again. The reticence of the Paris official communication last night was even more marked than customary. It furnished no inkling of what had happened after the Germans "had forced the French to yield ground at certain points" on the all important western wing.

"It is argued here that these intermittent variations are inevitable and not necessarily of importance in such a hard fought combat, through which positions are taken, retaken and taken again many times.

Allies Show Mobility.

"That the allies for the moment possessed greater mobility than their foes, seems to be indicated by the news that they have been able to raid a German line of communication, cut railroads and destroyed a strong train belonging to the German Imperial Guard. This is a hint borrowed from the Russians whose flanking methods appear to have contributed greatly to the reported German undings in the eastern war area."

As the enormous wastage in horses progresses, it is claimed for the allies that their possibilities for such movement will increase while those of their opponents decrease. German cavalrymen on bicycles already are a common sight and the Russian advance which is cutting Germany off from the horse producing district of Hungary, must maintain a farther increase of shortage in remounts.

Report Russians Losing.

London, Oct. 6.—An official statement issued today at Vienna said that the situation in Russian Poland and Galicia is favorable, according to a Reuter dispatch from the Austrian capital by way of Amsterdam.

"The combined German and Austrian army," it is officially announced, "have forced the enemy from Opatow and Klimontow, toward the Vistula river."

"In the Carpathian mountains the Russians have been completely beaten at Uzsok pass."

Hold Out Hope.

London, Oct. 6.—In a dispatch from Amsterdam, the correspondent of Reuter Telegram company says that telegrams received there from Berlin deny indignantly the reported destruction by the German troops, the property of M. Poincare, president of France, at Roubecourt. They declare that this property was a center of a heavy battle near Verdun and that it was destroyed by French artillery.

The charges of the Countess de Bayes that the German Crown Prince looted her chateau also are ridiculed. It is declared that the Crown Prince never was in this mansion.

Russia's Story.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The following official statement was given out today at Russian general headquarters:

"The Russian offensive campaign continues. The fortified positions of the enemy on the frontier are under heavy artillery fire. The enemy has received reinforcements from the garrison at Koenigsburg. There has been particularly desperate fighting in the vicinity."

"Railroads in East Prussia are crowded with troop trains and our aerial scouts report an uninterrupted movement of Germans in a westerly direction. German columns and German troop trains are withdrawing across the frontier."

Tells of Cablegram.

New York, Oct. 6.—The Austro-Hungarian consul here, today made public a cablegram from Secretary of Foreign Affairs Berchold, which announced that the Austrian advance to Seriane to be slow but satisfactory. The communication follows:

"The Archduke Frederick Ferdinand inspected nearly the whole Austrian northern army during the last fighting interval. He commented with satisfaction upon the splendid, warlike spirit and excellent bearing of all the troops in spite of the severity of the weather."

BELGIANS SALVAGE GERMAN GUNS FROM SWAMPS AT TERMONDE

To check the progress of the Germans at Termonde the Belgians opened the dykes and flooded the section occupied by the Germans. In their hurry to leave the inundated country the kaiser's forces deserted many of their guns. The photo shows Belgians in the act of salvaging one of these guns from the swamps at Termonde.

LONDON COMPLAINS OF DEARTH OF NEWS

WHOLE ARENA OF WAR IS DARKENED AS RESULT OF STRICT CENSORSHIP.

EAST ALSO SHUT OUT

Even Petrograd is Silent This Morning Leaving Nothing But Conjecture of the Military Experts.

London, Oct. 6.—So far as London is concerned for the past twelve hours news has been contraband of war. When the embargo is lifted, the public expects tidings of great moment, and there is a great distinct tendency to optimism regarding the nature of the revelations.

The French ministry of war in explaining the necessity for the official communication, being laconic, stated that it is useless to be more explicit if the battles in the valley of the Aisne and the Somme are not finished. The authorities know that the conflict will be tedious and prolonged before a decisive result is obtained.

East Also Affected.

Even a small relief afforded by the news of great activity in the east sent out yesterday, has ceased today and the iron enclosure of the censorship has extended to the region where operations have been more accessible than in any other theatre of the warfare.

Victory for one side or the other along the Russian frontier of supreme importance and the tremendous battle there may mark the climax of the war.

The military experts are beginning to approve the fact that the attacks now being made on either flank of the western army, are not entirely turning movements which depend for their effectiveness on speed and surprise. Little evidence either has been shown on the allies' left. If, however, the Russians win a great victory in the east, it will compel the Germans to divert their troops and the flank of movements will become crushing attacks, which will crumble up the depleted German line.

In Case Russian Lose.

On the other hand if the Russians are the victims of severe reverses, some of the veteran German corps will be released for service in the west, and the Germans may place the numerically inferior allied line. Whichever side can extend its line furthest without weakening its front, according to the experts, ought to win the battle of the Aisne. Hence the crucial importance of the battle.

WAR RESULTS TOPIC AT COLORADO CONVENTION

Freeley, Colo., Oct. 6.—The war in Europe and its effect on the women and children of the warring nations was expected to be the principal topic of discussion during the twentieth annual convention of the Colorado Federation of Women's clubs which began here today. The convention will last four days. The program includes a banquet, a presentation of the new battle plan, and a lecture on the war. The lecturers for the convention are W. B. Mooney of Greeley and Mrs. John D. Sherman of Chicago, chairman of the conservation department of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

TO OPEN BIDS SOON FOR NEW WARSHIPS

Washington, Oct. 6.—Bids are being received and will be opened soon at the navy department and contracts awarded for construction of the three new battleships authorized by congress this year, to be named the Idaho, the Mississippi and California. Each will cost $7,800,000 exclusive of armament and armaments. The new ships will be "triplets," each 624 feet long, of 97-foot beam, 30-foot draft and with 21 knots speed, larger and faster than any now in the navy. Their batteries will include twelve 14-inch guns, four submerged torpedo tubes and twenty-two 5-inch rapid fire guns.

WILSON FAVORS PURCHASE OF "MONTICELLO" HOME

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson favors the purchase of the "Monticello," the former home of Thomas Jefferson, from Representative Levy of New York, it became known today. He has not, however, permitted himself to make any statement of Mr. Levy that "Monticello" be used as a summer home for the president.

GERMANS CONTRADICT REPORTS OF LOSSES AT KIAO CHOW FORTS

Battle of Friday Reported to Have Been Favorable Tussle for Defenders of Position.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Peking, Oct. 6.—A communication received here from a German source in Kiau Chau territory, sets forth that in a German sortie last Friday night, the Germans lost one man killed and three wounded, while 25 Germans are missing.

The British battleship Triumph, according to same information, has participated in the bombardment of Tsing Tau.

A German torpedo boat which was recently engaged with the Japanese, has returned to the harbor undamaged. The German gunboat Jaguar, was slightly damaged.

Information has been obtained from a reliable source that last night the German authorities gave instructions for the destruction of all railroads, bridges and stations still under their control along the line running east and west through Shan Tung province. The German endeavor is to prevent the transfer of all the rolling stock of this line to the Tien-Tsin-Pukow roads, but the Chinese board of communication issued instructions to prevent such transfer.

The Russian government, it is related here, has undertaken to find capital for the Chinese government for the construction of the railroad line from Harbin to Chagovschensk with a branch of Tsisikhar in Manchuria.

A recent dispatch from Tokio said that in a surprise night attack against the Japanese at Tsing Tau, the Germans had 48 men killed. This same dispatch said that four Japanese shells had struck the German gunboat, which retired to the inner harbor after an exchange of shots.

CARRANZA SUBMITS NUMEROUS REFORMS

DOCUMENT OFFERED AT TIME OF GENERAL'S WILLINGNESS TO RESIGN FROM MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

FIRE ON U. S. TROOPS

Mexicans Use Machine Gun on Cavalry—Sharpshoot at Soldiers About Trenches.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mexico City, Oct. 6.—General Carranza proposed the following reforms for Mexico in the statement which he submitted last week when offering his resignation to a conference of Constitutionalists generals and governors.

"Assurance of municipal liberty; division of national lands and of lands which the government may purchase from land owners; expropriation of lands in the vicinity of municipalities of 500 population or more; the proceeds to be used in erecting schools, markets and court houses; obliging large business interests to pay weekly and in coin all their employees; limitation of hours of labor and Sunday work; workmen's compensation laws for injuries; just taxation of land; tariff laws intended to help the poorer classes; importation of necessities such as the country cannot produce; and reform of banking laws to permit the establishment of state banks."

General Carranza proposes giving the marriage contract a civil character, at the same time taking away all undue intervention of the state officials; establishing of absolute divorce laws when both parties consent, and the general betterment of the working classes.

Shoot Across Border.

Naco, October 6.—United States army officers reported today that their men have been subjected to Mexican fire every time they stand up in their observation trenches, two hundred yards or more of boundary line. Captain Holcomb, commanding troops B. Fifth cavalry, said a machine gun was turned on his men yesterday, and sixteen bullets flew over his own head.

Captain Holcomb himself was the target for five Mexican bullets as he was riding back to camp last night. Maytorena sent missionaries to Hill last night with appropriation said to have been inspired by General Villa that an armistice be declared pending the outcome of the Aguas Calientes peace conference. Hill declined to answer, and Maytorena's Indians advanced for an attack, but were promptly forced to retreat.

GERMANS MINE BRIDGE; RED CROSS TRAIN WRECKED; MANY DIE

This is the first photo to be received in this country showing the Red Cross railroad wreck where many wounded French and British soldiers being conveyed to hospital lost their lives, when the train, crossing the Mary bridge across the Marne, went into the river, when the bridge was wrecked by the Germans. It is here that the greatest struggle of the war is at present raging.

WAR RESULTS TOPIC AT COLORADO CONVENTION

Freeley, Colo., Oct. 6.—The war in Europe and its effect on the women and children of the warring nations was expected to be the principal topic of discussion during the twentieth annual convention of the Colorado Federation of Women's clubs which began here today. The convention will last four days. The program includes a banquet, a presentation of the new battle plan, and a lecture on the war. The lecturers for the convention are W. B. Mooney of Greeley and Mrs. John D. Sherman of Chicago, chairman of the conservation department of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

TO OPEN BIDS SOON FOR NEW WARSHIPS

Washington, Oct. 6.—Bids are being received and will be opened soon at the navy department and contracts awarded for construction of the three new battleships authorized by congress this year, to be named the Idaho, the Mississippi and California. Each will cost $7,800,000 exclusive of armament and armaments. The new ships will be "triplets," each 624 feet long, of 97-foot beam, 30-foot draft and with 21 knots speed, larger and faster than any now in the navy. Their batteries will include twelve 14-inch guns, four submerged torpedo tubes and twenty-two 5-inch rapid fire guns.

WILSON FAVORS PURCHASE OF "MONTICELLO" HOME

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson favors the purchase of the "Monticello," the former home of Thomas Jefferson, from Representative Levy of New York, it became known today. He has not, however, permitted himself to make any statement of Mr. Levy that "Monticello" be used as a summer home for the president.

SPAIN TO CONTINUE AS NEUTRAL NATION

Whatever Course Portugal May Take Will Not Affect Spanish Policy.

Washington, October 6.—Portugal's course in regard to the war will in no way affect Spanish neutrality, according to a statement made today at the Spanish embassy here. A popular canvass among Spanish newspapers, it was said, had shown that practically the entire country favored neutrality.

IOWA-BORN AUTHORS HOLD A HOME-COMING

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 6.—Authors from all parts of the world, who were born in Iowa, are in Des Moines today to attend a homecoming of Iowa literary persons, under the auspices of the Iowa Press and Artists' club, a local organization. Miss Alice French, known to the reading world as Octave Thanet, is here from Dubuque to act as hostess for Iowa.

Among those expected to attend are the well-known authors, Rupert Hughes, Bedford Hills, Hamlin Garland, Randall Furish, Edna Ferber, Helen Sherman Griffiths, Edward Steiner, Cynthia Westover Alden and Edward Sabier.

PHILIPP SHOWS NO INTEREST IN BLAINE

Republican Nominee Declares He Has No Interest in Non-partisan Movement Headed by J. J. Blaine.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Viroqua, Wis., Oct. 6.—"As a republican, I have no interest in a non-partisan movement," said J. J. Blaine, republican nominee for governor, commenting upon the entrance of James J. Blaine, Bosconob, into the field as an independent candidate for governor.

"Two years ago," continued Mr. Philipp, "Mr. Blaine was leader of the Wilson-progressive-republican party in Wisconsin. I suppose it is the same political party now. It will not affect my candidacy."

COMMISSION REFUSES ROAD RIGHT TO INCREASE RATES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 6.—The Missouri public service commission today refused to grant the petition of the Grand Trunk Railroad for permission to increase their interstate passenger rates to three cents a mile and their freight rates from fifty to 225 per cent.

"TIME NOW TO GET SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE"—VANDERLIP

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, is bending all of his energies toward bringing about closer commercial relations between the United States and South American countries. He reminds American business men that if they cannot get South American trade now, the chances of winning it after the war is over will be extremely slight.

Washington, Oct. 6.—A meeting of the bar of the sixth United States circuit was held here today in memory of the late Justice Lurton of the United States supreme court. Justice Day, of the United States circuit court, presided.

Former Attorney General McReynolds who succeeded Justice Lurton on the supreme bench, was on the program for an address. A memorial prepared by a committee consisting of John J. Vertess of Nashville; Judson Harmon of Cincinnati; Judge C. Angell of Detroit; and Edmond E. Trabue of Louisville, was read.

ADJUSTING OF RATES CAUSES CONFERENCE

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Adjustment of rates, involving preparations of thousands of complicated railroad tariffs, in conformance with the supreme court's decision last spring in the "intermountain," or "long and short haul" case was discussed today at a meeting of railroad officials and representatives of the interstate commerce commission. Drastic reductions in rates on westbound transcontinental freight shipment were ordered by the high court. To put these into effect without disturbing local rates was the problem of the conference today.

STUDENTS PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO CHARGES

University Students and Madison Youths Arrested For Rioting Before Municipal Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Oct. 6.—Pleas of not guilty were entered in court today by four students and four town boys charged with rioting in last night's disturbance on capital square when 2,000 students made a wild attack on the police station where three of their fellows were.

F. L. Miller, E. Wieber, and W. F. Koon, who gave Milwaukee and the town boys, Joe Friedberg, Fred Srengle, John Gather, and Fred Wilhelm a local boxer, will be tried tomorrow.

COURT HOLDS FORCE CLAUSE IS UNLAWFUL

Important Ruling Made by State Supreme Court on Highway Laws — Sustains Other Sections.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Oct. 6.—The decision of the supreme court in holding unconstitutional the force clause of the state highway law, today will prevent approximately $900,000 of highway construction which the state highway commission had in contemplation for next year.

The highway law otherwise is by inference sustained.

The force clause provides that where individuals raised one-sixth of the amount for construction the town, county and state must raise the rest. It is held that this clause delegated to the group of freeholders making the contribution to the legislative power of determining the amount of taxes to be levied for the purpose of making such improvements and that such delegation is unconstitutional.

The case arose in the town of Grand Chute.

FURS

Some one has said that furs make a plain woman beautiful and a beautiful woman ravishing.

That may be a bit of poetic extravagance, but there is no question but furs enhance the costume and add to the beauty of the wearer.

The average woman does not buy furs as she does a new hat — with the thought that if it is not satisfactory she can easily get another. She buys them after careful consideration and selection, because it means a large expenditure of money and, therefore, must be made to last several seasons.

It is also true that the average woman does not know very much concerning fur value. It is, therefore, necessary that she buys from only reliable fur dealers.

In the advertising columns of The Gazette are to be seen the announcements of fur sales by reliable merchants in almost every edition.

Men's Haberdashery

The gentleman who is very particular about those little things which characterize a gentleman's dress will find plenty to interest him here.

DJ LUBY

Let Our Chinese Chef

Geo. Wee.

make you the real Chop Sooy

A high class dish made as only a Chinese cook can make it.

SAVOY CAFE.

HIGH GRADE QUALITY FALL AND WINTER

CRAVANETTED OVERCOATS

Famous "Kenreigh" make, suitable for any wear, silk trimmed, etc.; guaranteed Balmaccans, etc.; $10.00 and upwards.

They will please you.

FORD & SON

Until you have tried our Portrait service, you can never realize how thoroughly satisfying it is.

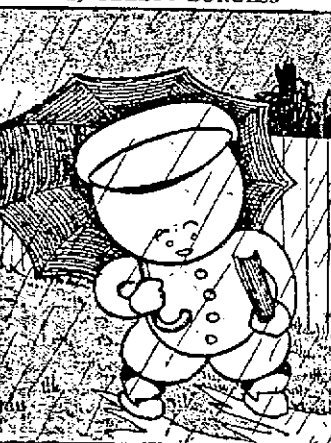

Courteous Treatment and Prompt Attention To All.

Motl Studio

115 W. Milw. St.
New phone Red 1015.

Enormous Match Consumption. To keep up with the match consumption of the earth the services of 50,000 workpeople are constantly required.

GOOPS
By GELETT BURGESS

John F. Gay

Wet feet! Wet feet! You will catch cold, If you don't do as you are told.

And, when your feet are wet, don't go and get dry stockings on, you know!

Remember John Fernando Gay,

Who is a Goop.

caught cold that way!

Don't Be A Goop!

ORCHESTRA DELIGHTS THE APOLLO MEMBERS

Initial Concert of the Musical Organization's Year's Program Most Pleading.

Thatcher's Symphony orchestra, with Mrs. Beach as soloist, gave the opening concert of the year's program of the Apollo, at Library Hall Monday evening which delighted the members of this organization which enters upon another season of programs for the monthly entertainments of which, should prove most interesting and entertaining.

James Thatcher, the conductor, also a violinist of note, proved himself a finished artist in the selection of the "Fantasia of Hungarian airs" he proved himself a master of his instrument as well as combining the difficult task of conducting the orchestra. The program was not followed closely, several different sections than those arranged for being given but the encores were most liberal and charming.

The soloist, Mrs. Beach, was a most delightful and other selections proved equally acceptable to the audience who showed their approval by liberal applause.

Big Albert Savi the harpist is only nineteen years old and has recently arrived in this country. His Fantasia, which was his own arrangement and the encore from the sextette from Lucia showed to artistic touch.

Jennie Thatcher Beach, the soloist, gave the Aria, "My Heart at thy sweet voice." The vocal requirements in the aria are considerable, but Mrs. Beach was equal to the demand, her voice is of beautiful tonal quality, clear and sweet, and she uses it most effectively. She sings with abundant feeling and with perfect ease.

The orchestra was composed of artists and the audience, although small was quite enthusiastic, showing it in their applause. The Apollo Club is trying to raise the standard of music in this city, and ought to be more liberally patronized.

OLD ELKINS HOUSE
NEAR BELOIT BURNS

Gasoline Explosion Starts Fire in Old Stage House in the Town of Beloit.

The old stage house on the Prairie road, four miles north of Beloit, probably the oldest house in the town of Beloit, was burned to the ground Saturday afternoon, following an explosion in a kerosene stove in the kitchen.

The old stage house, known also as the old Elkins house, has long been a landmark in that section of the country. Old settlers in this section can remember going to parties there before the civil war, and but few people in the town of Beloit are old enough to remember its early history.

The property is now owned by Mrs. Elkins Drosser of Clinton and was occupied by Henry Huebe. Mr. Huebe was in the barn when he noticed the blaze. His sister, Miss Elsie Huebe, was in the milk house, and the milkman, Fred Cowling, was asleep in the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

GOVERNMENT GAUGERS ARE AFTER EVIDENCE

Visited Janesville to Inspect Illicit Sales by Wholesale Houses of Bonded Whiskey.

That the arm of Uncle Sam is long and powerful is evidenced by the fact that government gaugers and inspectors have paid Janesville retail liquor dealers visits recently which resulted in the seizure of several barrels of whiskey, sold by wholesalers to local dealers, which failed to come up to the same tests and standards as when taken out of the government bonding warehouses by the wholesalers.

One wholesaler admitted the violation of the law in taking out portions of the bonded whiskey and substituting a cheaper grade to keep it up to the test while the second failed to do so and whiskey seized by inspectors at Harry Thometz place of business will be used as evidence against him in cases the government is preparing to start. The whiskey seized was purchased by Mr. Thometz several months ago and was traced to his place of business when the inspectors went to the bonded warehouse suspected wholesaler. It was tested and found not to be the same quality as the whiskey taken from the bonded warehouse and seized. The concern in question has sold considerable whiskey throughout southern Wisconsin and it is all in the hands of the government now. The second firm pleaded guilty to the charges brought, paid their fine and the whiskey was released and the retailers who purchased them reimbursed.

Liberal applause.

Big Albert Savi the harpist is only nineteen years old and has recently arrived in this country. His Fantasia, which was his own arrangement and the encore from the sextette from Lucia showed to artistic touch.

Jennie Thatcher Beach, the soloist, gave the Aria, "My Heart at thy sweet voice." The vocal requirements in the aria are considerable, but Mrs. Beach was equal to the demand, her voice is of beautiful tonal quality, clear and sweet, and she uses it most effectively. She sings with abundant feeling and with perfect ease.

The orchestra was composed of artists and the audience, although small was quite enthusiastic, showing it in their applause. The Apollo Club is trying to raise the standard of music in this city, and ought to be more liberally patronized.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of Mr. Huebe and after a hard fight succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the barn. It was impossible at any time after the fire was discovered to save the house.

So rapidly did the flames spread that when Mr. Huebe finally succeeded in arousing Cowling, the man was forced to climb through a window to escape. Only a trunk full of clothing belonging to another hired man was saved from the flames. There was little insurance and the structure and house were both a complete loss.

Letters of German Soldiers Show Rigor and Hardships of Fighting

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Rotterdam, Oct. 6.—Much of the news of the war gets into the German press in the form of letters which officers and privates at the front send to their families. Written by men who describe what they actually see and feel, some strange mixtures of sensations experienced and actually encountered result—documents of strong appeal and wide human interest. One of these appears in the Kölnische Zeitung of Sept. 10. It follows:

"From a wild French forest, on the anniversary of the battle of Sedan (Sept. 2), the best greetings. During the last few days we have again been at the extreme front, after we had been given a chance to rest up and get enough to eat. Our position is a dangerous one, being well advanced into the French lines, and we are obliged to fight off many attacks on the part of an enemy much superior in numbers.

"Yesterday we fought from early morning till late in the night, opposing Alpine chassateurs and aggressive French. The woods here are very extended and cover a ground which is much broken up, there are so many trees that you can hardly see the enemy until you are within 50, even 30, paces of him, and quite frequently we get so close to the blacks that we can look into their eyes.

"We are greatly indebted to the color of our uniforms. The French are constantly at a disadvantage because of their red pants and blue coats. The Alpine chassateurs are fine fellows, but they are not the kind of men you would make a good appearance in. In the French hotel porter uniform nobody looks smart. The chassateurs wear red or blue knee breeches, ribbed puttees, and a blue cap. Prisoners without arms make an appearance of utter neglect. There are prisoners taken every day, because the ordinary French soldier is only too ready to throw away his arms, 'shake hands' and shout 'Par don'.

"It is now one in the afternoon, and so far we have not been disturbed. The dead are buried, and now we are lying under the trees enjoying a spell of quiet and the peace of the forest. I have just finished reading the newspapers to my comrades, and most of them are taking a little nap. Every thing about us is peaceful. The forest is fragrant with the smell of foliage and pine needles, and the sky laughs in a wonderful blue. It is hard to believe that this is a scene of war. The French are butchering the scene of what I saw yesterday. But the dull thud and thunder of artillery in the distance reminds me of this.

"Two days later the letter is continued: "We are out of our position. Yesterday we began another advance and attack on the enemy's positions. We have now taken the road and so far as I can judge from the map, there are several kilometers of it yet, part brush, part high growth.

"This is dangerous territory for us, because the Germans are full of high trees and new wood makes it easy for our opponents to get the best of us. The greatest caution is necessary and our advance is a matter of taking one foot at a time. Every minute we are just advance 200 meters and then down for cover. Bullets begin to chirp through the air. But of the enemy nothing is seen.

"The trees are big enough fairly good cover offered by them. Directly the fire opens the battle line halts and falls flat to the ground, every man waiting and looking for a target. There is no shooting done here with the German rifle except when one has somebody on the sight. But often there is nothing to be done but to advance again, and to frighten the fellows with our 'hurrahs'. Along the lines travel stentorian 'Fix Bayonets'.

Then comes the command 'March—March', and the line springs to its feet, plunges forward and a nerve-racking 'hurrah' smashes the woods. The enemy's fire begins a veritable hail of lead. Some fall, but onward crashes the German line.

As soon as we reach the position of the enemy his fire ceases and all take to flight. Our bullets follow them and then many a 'Red-pant' lies on the floor of the forest. But our bullets do not find a mark long—the enemy has disappeared; we after him, only to meet another terrific hail of lead. Again we fall to the ground for cover, and this time I felt below—a bullet had struck my cooking utensil. I owe my life to the quick fall to the ground—for another second and I would never have risen again. Another bullet hits the ground just beside me—but never mind that. Up and at them—at the very hide of the fellows.

"We soon reach our goal—a trench of a slight elevation to the left from where a heavy fire has done much damage in our line. Many of us are down, and others crawl to the rear to get away from the enemy. Now, fire! The crest of the trench becomes our target. The rattle of musketry from both sides becomes deafening. One of us will have to give up the trench. We have learned how to shoot straight—the fire in the trench weakens; the trench itself is veiled now by a cloud of dust raised by our bullets.

"Advance, comes the command again. We are all impelled forward by the mad desire to get at them. One hundred meters separates us from the enemy. Many sacrifices are demanded in the final charge. Again the enemy's fire weakens—then it almost ceases.

"Advance, shouts somebody. The fellows must be driven out of the trenches. Some of them already are leaving, but our bullets lay them low as they run. Another half—another advance. Only fifty meters to the trench—barbed wire entanglements block our progress.

"But the fellows in the trenches have lost faith in themselves. They desert their position in masses—running, scrambling, stumbling, falling—some in a manner that shows they will never rise again. We forget to take cover. Standing, we pour our fire into the groups of fleeing men. Good comrades fall—cry for help—bid you farewell with the last breath. Farewell good friends, we must advance!

"Soon we have disposed of the enemy, who has laid low so many of the fellows. The barbed wire is hacked through with our bayonets and we reach the trench. It is filled with writhing, struggling bodies. We aimed well. In the ditch lies a kaleidoscopic mixture of bodies swathed in blue and red—pale one from which glassy eyes look into the azure sky.

"But on with the pursuit. Some of us remain behind to disarm the wounded so that they cannot fire on our backs. Many another sprawls, falling on the soft forest floor. The height is taken, but the day is not yet done. Everywhere the French have taken prisoners to stem the tide of retreat. There is yet much to be done. We must encounter the enemy out of the forest, and once they reach the opening our waiting artillery does the rest. Our share of the work is done, the gruesome forest and the experience are ours.

"Most of us had lost our comrades in the mad rush through the trees and brushwood. Indescribable were the scenes which followed when we found one another still alive.

"So we take a rest, and while doing this listen to the humming and whistling of our shells as they go over us on their way to a village in which the buildings have sought refuge. Soon the buildings are aflame and the French again on their way.

"You have done well, said our corps commander. 'With you fellows I'd fetch the devil out of hell!'

Useful Cut Glass Articles

OUR CUT GLASS HAS ALWAYS BORNE THE REPUTATION OF BEING THE CLEAREST AND MOST BRILLIANT TO BE FOUND.

GEORGE C. OLIN
19 W. Milwaukee Street

Specialist in Examination of Eyes and Fitting of Glasses. Crossed Eyes Straightened by Prismatic and Muscular Exercises. No case too difficult for me to refract. Bring your children to me. No drugs. JOSEPH H. SCHOLLER OPTOMETRIST. Office Badger Drug Co.

WE'RE PROUD OF OUR SERVICE

OUR PATRONS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN US AND THAT MEANS MUCH IN BUYING JEWELRY. WE NEVER DECEIVE.

G. E. FATZINGER, Jeweler. Next to Post Office.

OLD LANDMARK WILL SOON BE REMOVED FROM LOCATION

One of the old landmarks of Janesville, the popcorn and peanut stand owned by James A. Conley, on the corner of River and Milwaukee streets, will soon be removed. The stand has stood there for forty years past and is one of the landmarks of the city. It is one of the institutions of the city and makes way for a more modern equipment. During its long existence it has had but two owners, and its location, on the curb, has been by permission of succeeding councils during its long existence.

SMOKE PRIZE SEAL CIGARS

Local Cigar Day Monday Oct. 12th

Manufactured by J. J. Watkins, Janesville, Wis.

No Better Quality IN Wedding Rings Than Those We Sell

NO SEAMS TO SHOW—COLOR ALWAYS THE SAME.

NOTHING BUT 14K, 18K, 22K GOLD USED IN THE MANUFACTURE.

NO CHANCES TAKEN AS TO QUALITY WHEN YOU PURCHASE A RING WITH OUR STAMP.

No. 10 South Main Street. WILL P. SAYLES "RELIABLE JEWELER" Successor to HALL & SAYLES. OPPOSITE HOTEL MYERS.

CLOCK REPAIRING

If your clock is not keeping good time, or does not strike right I will call for it, put in good order and return. Service guaranteed. Call Red 719.

J. J. SMITH MASTER WATCHMAKER 313 W. Milwaukee St.

Waists

Something new in the Vestee idea at $1.25 & $1.50

Silk Waists in the Roman stripes at $4.00 & $4.50

Challie Waists at $3.00

Separate Skirts

Serges with the new tunic $5.00

Poplins and Chudah with tunic in the new pleated and poke effects at $7.50 to $10

POND & BAILEY
Janesville's Finest Shopping Center 23-25 W. Milwaukee Street

WATCH US GROW.

For Every Smoker In Town

Local Cigar Day which comes on Monday October 12th, is for the benefit of every smoker in town. On this day local made cigars bearing the Union Label will be featured and it is expected that there will be several special price features on this day at the local dealers.

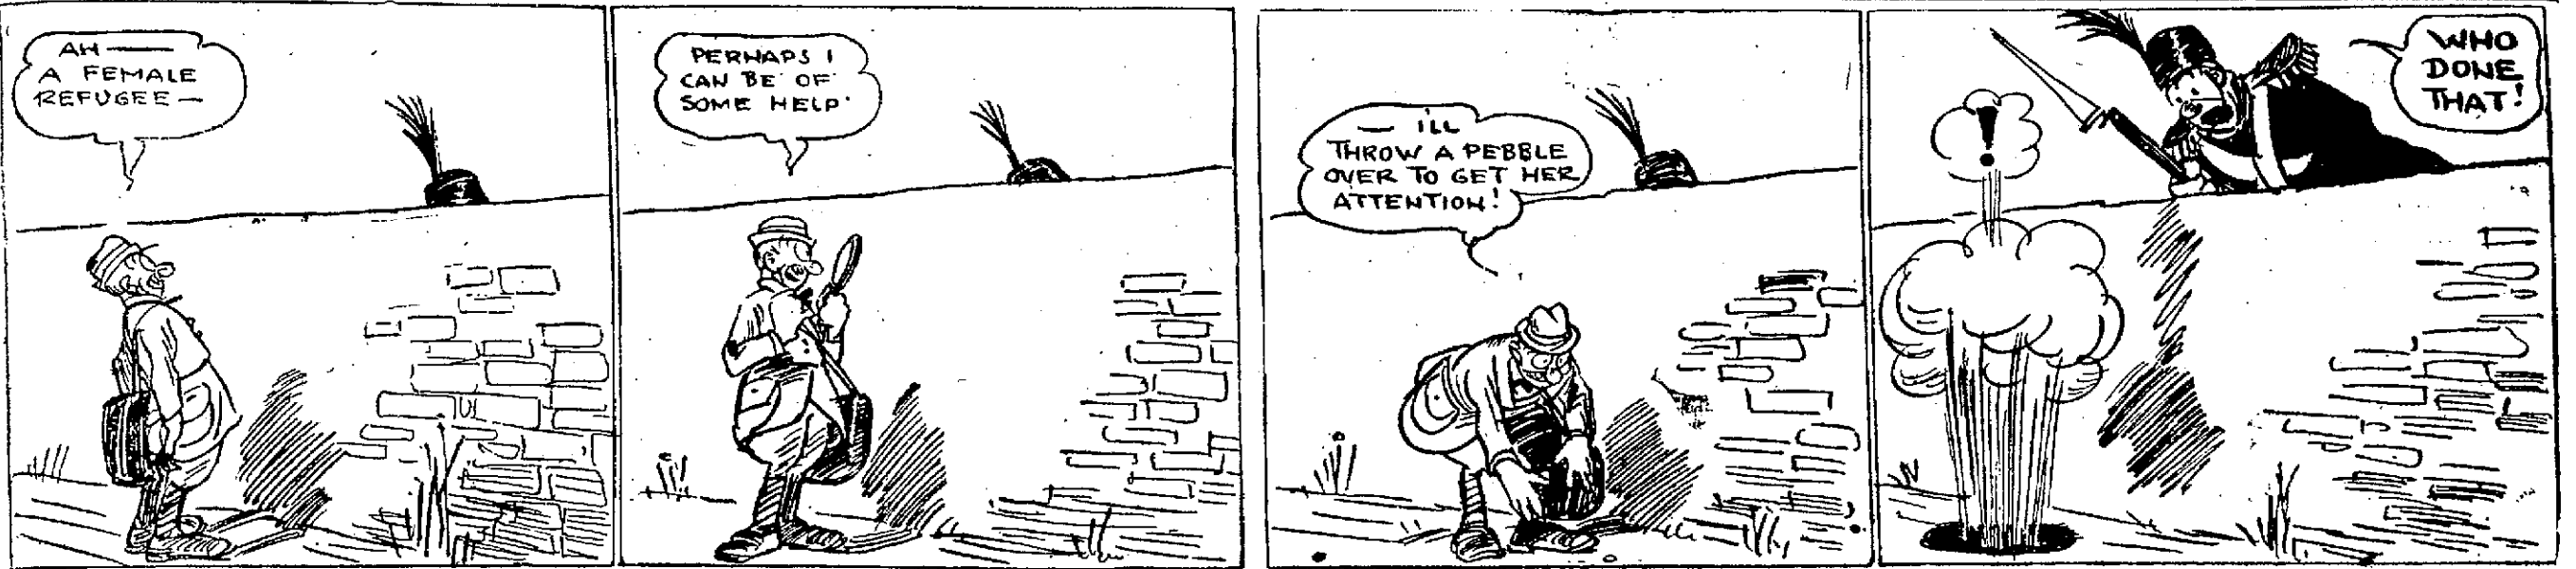

EXPERIENCED. Lady—We are all feelers here. I suppose you don't mind that? Mary—Goodness, no, mum! I've worked in a family of reformed drunkards before.

Stop those Early Bronchial Coughs. They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. Wants others to know of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

TWO DRUNKS GIVEN SENTENCE IN COURT. William Manning paid fifteen dollars and costs for straying from the straight and narrow path yesterday, being fined this amount in the municipal court this morning by Judge Maxfield. Manning pleaded guilty to a vagrant and also to being intoxicated. Judge Maxfield imposed a thirty-day sentence.

CRIPPLED BOY MOURNS LOSS OF HIS PET DOG MISSING SINCE MONDAY. In spite of the sunshine today seemed sad and gloomy to Frank Travis of 308 Dodge street who mourned the absence of his little pet dog which has evidently been stolen daily wined out of his life Monday morning. Frank is a cripple and has been unable to walk for years. He was very fond of the canine pet who was his constant companion and he hopes that the good turn the dog may be returned to him. The missing animal is light brown, spotted, and has a bobbed tail.

PETEY ABROAD—FINE FEATHERS DO NOT NECESSARILY MAKE FINE BIRDS.

By C. A. VOIGH

ATHLETIC'S INFELD SUPERIOR TO BRAVES

CONNIE MACK'S MILLION DOLLAR DEFENSIVE WORK IS MORE FINISHED.

EVERS RIVALS COLLINS

Only at Third Do the Braves Fall Far Beyond the Philadelphia Nine in Class.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Oct. 6.—In the coming series for the world's baseball championship the Athletics and the Philadelphia Americans are expected to contribute many sensational plays, both offensively and defensively, during the struggle for premier diamond honors. In fact it would prove most extraordinary if the reverse should be the case since combinations which include players of the type of Johnny Evers, Eddie Collins, "Rabbit" Maranville, "Stuffy" McInnis, "Home Run" Baker and Heinie Schmidt execute thrilling catches, throws and stops in every game on the pennant schedule.

A comparison of the two infields shows that both the American and National League championship clubs have quartets of players stretched around the base lines that are far above the ordinary run of these of the big league clubs. Regardless of whether the players are veterans or phenomenal youngsters, with but a year or so of major league experience they are either leaders or close to the top in their particular position. Just how these two infields will play against each other in the series which begins this week is hard to forecast but an individual comparison of the season's work of each of the eight players most likely to cover the positions from first to third, shows that they are quite evenly matched in general skill with glove and bat.

Beginning with first base the Athletics will be represented by McInnis and the Braves by Schmidt. The National League player is older and bigger physically than McInnis but the latter has the advantage of longer baseball experience and the 1914 season records prove him to be stronger with the stick. Schmidt has a fielding average of .992 for 130 games which puts him third in the list of National League first basemen. His batting average for 133 games is .275. McInnis is second among the initial sackers of the junior league with .994 for 147 games. At bat he has a far better average than Schmidt, his record being .317 for 146 games.

Evers and Collins will be opposed at second base and here are two names to be confounded with. Both are famous and both have had plenty of World's Series experience. As the pivotal point in double plays and infield strategy there is little to choose between them. Both cover wide areas around second base and throw almost any position. In age and experience Evers is older than Collins being thirty-one years of age and with twelve years of league service against Collins 27 years and seven seasons on the diamond. In fielding the former Chicago Cub Star leads the Mackmen by twenty-six points the averages being Evers .978, Collins .952. In hitting, however, the positions are reversed since Collins shows .344 to Evers .279.

At shortstop it is a case of a steady veteran against a youthful phenomenon. Barry is twenty-seven while Maranville has just passed his twenty-first birthday. Physically there is little advantage one way or the other both being about in weight and height. Barry has had two years more experience in the national game, which, perhaps, accounts for his better fielding average which is .978 for 133 games to Maranville's .945 for 131 games. The youthful Brave is a more consistent batter, however, showing .251 to Barry's .242. Both fit in to the defensive scheme of their respective infields in splendid style being fast, accurate throwers and capable of ranging over a wide stretch of territory between second and third bases.

The one position in the inner defense where the World's Champions appear to have an advantage over the Braves, if figures for the past and present seasons can be depended upon, is at third base. Here J. Franklin Baker and "Red" Smith will hold forth during the coming series. In age, experience batting and fielding the famous home run hitter has the better in comparisons over his rival who will play the far corner bag for Boston. Baker is 28 years old, weighs 175 lbs. and has had six years of professional baseball experience. Smith is 24, weighs 161 and has played ball for six years. The 1914 records of the two players in question show that Baker has fielded .947 and batted .310 to Smith's .912 and .265.

The official batting and fielding records of the two infields just previous to the close of the pennant season showed the following standing:

Boston Braves.
Player	Fielding	Batting	Aver.
Schmidt, 1b	.992	.275	.992
Evers, 2b	.978	.279	.978
Maranville, ss	.945	.251	.945
Smith, 3b	.912	.265	.912
Averages	.9567	.2675

Philadelphia Athletics.
Player	Fielding	Batting	Aver.
McInnis, 1b	.994	.317	.994
Collins, 2b	.952	.344	.952
Barry, ss	.978	.242	.978
Baker, 3b	.947	.310	.947
Averages	.9677	.3032

Well Supplied With Eyes.
The common blue-bottle fly possesses between four thousand and five thousand little eyes.

STANDINGS OF THE TEAMS.

National League.
Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Boston	93	58	.616
New York	83	69	.547
St. Louis	81	72	.531
Chicago	78	76	.507
Brooklyn	74	78	.488
Philadelphia	73	79	.483
Pittsburgh	63	85	.426
Cincinnati	60	94	.388

American League.
Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Philadelphia	98	52	.656
Boston	80	61	.567
Washington	80	73	.523
Detroit	80	73	.523
St. Louis	72	82	.466
New York	69	83	.454
Chicago	70	84	.454
Cleveland	60	102	.364

Federal League.
Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago	86	65	.570
Indianapolis	85	65	.568
Baltimore	80	67	.544
Buffalo	77	68	.531
Brooklyn	74	74	.500
Pittsburgh	61	82	.427
St. Louis	62	86	.419

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

National League.
Boston 15-9, Brooklyn 2-5.
Chicago 4, St. Louis 3.
New York 4, Philadelphia 0.
Pittsburgh 4-1, Cincinnati 3-4.

American League.

Philadelphia 2, New York 0.
Washington 0, Boston 3.

Federal League.

Chicago 2, Kansas City 0.
Baltimore 8-1, Pittsburgh 6-1.
Buffalo 4, Brooklyn 3.
Indianapolis 15, St. Louis 8.

Sport Snap Shots

Clark Griffith, the Senators' manager, is already planning his spring training for next season. He has decided to abandon his old idea of training at Charlottesville. Last spring Griffith explained that all other managers made a mistake in going so far south and that he got much better results by working his men out in a climate comparatively cold at the early season of the year. Upon returning north, he said, the players suffered no reaction from the change of temperature and were able to start the season without the usual colds and stiff joints. Next spring, however, Griffith is going to take his men to Cuba, if he can make a satisfactory deal with the baseball people there.

Ira Thomas of the Athletics and one of the most respected and influential players in the American league, is anxious to start the right sort of a players' fraternity and one that the Athletics would be glad to join. Thomas has suggested a fraternity for the American league alone or, better, a complete new one that would embrace Dave Fultz as president. The Athletics are all quite willing to join the present fraternity if Dave Fultz will please step out and be gone. Thomas suggests the election of a player to the presidency who is actively playing ball and he points out Christy Mathewson would serve admirably in such a place.

Bill Carrigan, the Red Sox manager, doesn't hesitate to say that if Joe Wood had been able to work at his best clip all season the Braves would have won the pennant.

CLASSY BACKSTOP IS WHALEY OF THE BRAVES; YET HE PLAYS IN FEW GAMES

Bert Whaley.

Bert Whaley, the capable young backstop who made such a good record with the Boston Braves last year, is spending the most of his time on the bench this season. That doesn't mean that he has lost any of his class, but that Gowdy is a little better. Whaley will probably get a chance to show what he can do in one or more world's series games, should the Braves nose out the Giants.

would now be holding the American league pennant. More than quite a few agree with him. Carrigan admits that the Athletics have a somewhat better infield than he has, but he declares that he has them beaten in the outfield and in the box. The Red Sox came so near beating out the Athletics that the addition of Joe Wood at his best would just about have thrown the balance. And as happened the Boston bunch had it on the Athletics in winning the majority of games from them through the season.

Walter Leverenz, who did very excellent work for the Browns last season, has been a dead weight to them this year. Not only has he failed to show the speed his work last season promised, but his behavior otherwise has been unsatisfactory. He has sulked and stalled and drawn many a fine. Perhaps his brilliance last year went to his head. At any rate, he has been a sorrow to the Browns this year and it's likely they wish they had let him have his way when he wanted to jump to the Feds.

Joe Tinker's coming across with more talk about the Browns last season, has been a dead weight to them at the expense of organs and baseball and that among other things they have Walter Johnson practically signed sure enough. He is able to contradict the idea that the Feds have lost money this season by pointing out that Wiegmann in Chicago is clearing about $50,000. The other teams have made money, too, save St. Louis, Kansas City and Brooklyn, all of whom lost a little. Also, he points out that the Feds have paid the salaries of most of their players for next season. The organization of the Feds is more complete and they are better able to continue business than the National league, says Joe.

Alexander, the Phillies' flinger, doesn't get in on the world's series this season of course, but he can't choose but feel that he's had a pretty nice year just the same. He gets a $1,000 bonus for winning twenty-five games.

Scoring one run on four hits and a pass is an achievement that any club might be proud of. The St. Louis Browns recently turned the trick in a game against the White Sox.

Joe Killian, manager of the Oshkosh team in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, is making a minor league record. For the third straight season he has guided his bunch to a pennant.

Best Qualities of Wood.

Unlike most other timber, the straighter and better formed trees do not yield the most highly prized quality of lumber. It is the crooked, irregular logs that possess the best figured wood. The best qualities of wood are obtained from trees over one hundred years old, which rarely have a clear length of more than 12 feet. The most beautiful grained wood is in the roots and burls.

Suitable Calling.

"What business are you going to put your son to, Brown?" "Well, I haven't decided yet, but judging from the hours he keeps I should judge he was naturally cut out for a milkman."

AMUSEMENTS

"AFTER THE BALL" IS A REMARKABLE PICTURE

Kelcey and Shannon, Who Have Appeared in Janesville Several Times, Seen Last Night in Beautiful Photoplay.

"After the Ball," a picturized version of Charles K. Harris' famous song, is an offering that will please any theatre-goer. The fascinating work of Effie Shannon and her handsome co-star, Herbert Kelcey, will hold the most critical audience.

The theme is the love story of an old man told to his little niece, why he is sad and lonely, why he never married. To complete the fabric of the story innumerable situations are shown, some of them thrilling enough to please any seeker after the sensational and others tender enough to hold the fancy of the most romantic nature.

The settings are very handsome; the work of the principals and supporting cast is excellent; and the whole may be summed up as a most successful photoplay.

Special music is an added support which aids in making for the success of this picture.

A large audience saw the first performance last evening. The picture will be shown again tonight and tomorrow night with matinee tomorrow.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Joseph in the Land of Egypt." James Cruze, the popular star of the Million Dollar Mystery, takes the leading part in Thianhouse's big production which comes to the Apollo Wednesday. "Joseph in the Land of Egypt," a photoplay corresponding to the big stage production now running in Chicago, "Joseph and His Brethren." This photo drama gives Mr. Cruze an opportunity of displaying his excellent dramatic talent. Marguerite Snow plays a leading part with him and they are supported by a strong cast.

This interesting feature will be shown tomorrow only, afternoon and evening.

Can Be Too Eager.

Many a man has burned his fingers in his eagerness to strike while the iron was hot.

Holland Reclaims Land.

Holland is still reclaiming land at the rate of between 20,000 and 25,000 acres a year.

The fans root for Blatz Private Stock "Leads them ALL"

Oh! You Winner!

Heads first division—"Blatz Private Stock" Leads Them All—A Winner always. A most exquisite Brew. Pure—wholesome—snappy and individual in taste.

Its real superiority appreciated by every member of the family. Satisfy their enthusiasm by ordering a case sent home today.

Val. Blatz Brewing Co.'s Branch
606 Wall Street, Janesville, Wis.
Phone Bell 290—Rock 675

THE ICEMAN WARMS UP TO THE GOOD JUICE.

JUST because you want tobacco satisfaction is no reason why you need to put a big wad in your cheek, and then have to grind on it. A small chew of "Right-Cut" satisfies you. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. The glad news spreads from friend to friend.

Very likely you yourself have already started several of your friends on "Right-Cut."

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and moist so that you won't have to grind it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary cased tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York

BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US

Let Me Reduce the High Cost of Living in Your Family

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

(Over Robert's.)

My patients tell me my prices are only about half what others charge them for their Dentistry.

ENFORCE SPEED LAWS

OPINION OF BOARD

BOARD OF EDUCATION RECOMMEND STATE REGULATION AT MONTHLY MEETING LAST NIGHT.

EIGHT MILES AN HOUR

When Passing School Ground Is Within Law—Board Agree To Close School During Convention.

That the most stringent enforcement of state speed laws should be observed, was the opinion set by the school board of education, at their regular monthly meeting last evening at seven-thirty in the high school. The fact that a few people know that there is a state regulation prohibiting motor vehicles from running more than ten miles an hour past school buildings, stands out as the real reason, the board taking up the discussion of speed laws and their enforcement, and acting on the same.

In addition to recommending the enforcement of these laws, the board also decided to notify the city council to place signs near all school buildings, or other places, specified in the statutes, to inform and warn motorists. The board again agreed to ask the city to enforce all speed laws, in addition to asking the city to enforce state rules and regulations applying to motor vehicles be lived up to. Several specific cases where automobiles had failed to stop at the corners where a car was standing, were cited.

The laws as they appear on the statute books, which the board called special attention to, might be of interest to the readers. They are as follows:

"No person shall operate or drive any automobile, motorcycle or other similar motor vehicle through any cemetery or through any park or other place where the presence of persons or may be in said highway at a speed exceeding eight miles per hour." Sec. 1636-49. Wis. Stats.

"Any person who shall violate the provisions of section 1636-49 hereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars. And any person convicted of a second or subsequent violation of the provisions of section 1636-49 of the statutes, any one year, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Any person operating an automobile, motor cycle, or other similar motor vehicle, who shall injure any person or animal, and fail to stop and give assistance, and address, and the name and address of the owner of the automobile, motor cycle or other similar motor vehicle, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for a period of not less than three months, nor more than two years." Sec. 1636-54 Wis. Stats.

The board further voted to adjourn school on November fifth and sixth, Thursday and Friday, to allow all teachers to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association, which will be held in Milwaukee, on the 6th, 7th and 8th of next month. No other business of importance was transacted.

RANDALL HAIRDRESSING PARLOR

Shampooing, Hairdressing, facial massage, manicuring. Work always first class. Hair goods a specialty. Jackman Bldg. R. C. Phone 890 Black.

PURE MILK

JANESVILLE PURE MILK COMPANY

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

WANTED—Boy to learn cake baking. Apply in person only. Colvin's Baking Co. 5-10-6-3t.

WANTED—Second hand pony buggy. Address Mrs. J. S. Marsden, box 68. Phone 268, Edgerton, Wis. 26-10-6-3t.

FOR SALE—On account of leaving city must sell my nearly new Schlegel piano. No reasonable offer refused. Will sell this week. Call at 830 South Fremont St. (south of Sharon St.) 36-10-6-3t.

FOR RENT—Modern furnished room in town apartment. R. C. phone 808 Blue. 8-10-6-2t.

ATTENTION—Wednesday, Oct. 14th, at 1 o'clock, on the Risch farm, 2 1/2 miles west of Janesville on Mine street, will be sold a fine lot of chickens and farm machinery. Chas. Risch, Prop. John Ryan, Auctioneer. 54-10-6-3t.

LOST—Saturday, a small flat oval pin. J. C. M. engraved on back. Leave at Gazette office. 25-10-6-3t.

WANTED—By young man, any kind of work in city. Address "City" care Gazette. 2-10-6-3t.

FOR RENT—Strictly modern house, 4 or 5 small house. Both close to immediate possession. John L. Fisher, Central block. 11-10-6-3t.

LOCAL BRIEF ITEMS.

The Married Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's church will give a card party Tuesday evening, October 6th, at St. Mary's hall. All invited.

The combined Milwaukee and Janesville divisions of the First Congregational church will meet with Mrs. William Bladon at 22 East street, south, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 7th, at two o'clock. The members are all urged to attend. Bring your own work. Mrs. Grace Bradley, leader; Mrs. A. P. Allen, assistant leader.

The eighth division of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Harry Day and Mrs. Laura Burr, 158 South Jackson street, Wednesday afternoon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Glenn Fisher left this evening for Alton, Ill., where he has accepted a position to take charge of a surveying party along the Mississippi river under the war department of the civil service.

The Misses Elizabeth White and Elizabeth Horton are spending the day in Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gott have returned from a short visit in Milwaukee.

Timothy Callahan of Chicago, is in Janesville today.

Miss Elizabeth Miller of Eastern avenue, has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in the northern part of the state.

Harry Freeman and wife of Bardonia, spent the day, Monday in this city.

Mrs. Jasper Rauld of Brodhead, is the guest of local relatives.

Mrs. James Conley has returned to her home in Fond du Lac after a short visit with her parents in this city.

George Van Kueren of Rockford, was an over-Sunday visitor in Janesville.

S. B. Fox is a Chicago visitor today.

M. C. Lynch of Caudo, N. D., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lynch of Milton Avenue, left last night for Mineral Point.

The Messdames McCaffery, Roach and Maher of Fond du Lac, who were the guests of Mrs. Charles Young of Academy street, have returned to their homes.

Frank Jungblut of Madison, is a business visitor in Janesville today.

Herbert Kaskas of Port Atkinson, is the guest of local relatives.

Miss Mary Kelly of Johnston, is spending the week with Miss Lillian Callahan.

Mrs. James Jordan of Harvard, left this morning for her home after a week's visit with Mrs. R. H. Jordan of this city.

Thomas Collins of Freeport, is spending the week in Janesville.

John Busfield and wife of Madison, were the over Sunday guests of local relatives.

George Jacobs transacted business at Stoughton today.

Senator John Whitehead left this morning for Milwaukee for a short visit.

Clem Tuitt transacted business at Edgerton today.

Edward Spaulding left this morning for a visit of several days at Edgerton.

Herbert Kaskas of Port Atkinson, and children of Crystal Lake, Ill., spent Sunday at the home of Charles Auringer.

Miss Gladys Auringer of 601 Carline street entertained a few of her school friends at her home, Saturday, October 3d, in honor of her seventh birthday.

Miss Ariene Schaefer of Rockton arrived in this city this morning for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Daniel Gahri.

John Terwilliger of La Prairie, who was operated on for appendicitis, at Mary hospital, is daily improving in health and strength.

Hiram Bantley and wife of Monroe are business visitors in Janesville today.

Mrs. George Hogan has returned to her home from Mercy hospital and her sister, Mrs. J. Fitzpatrick of Chicago, is caring for her.

Mrs. Mary Hiem of Orfordville, today.

Miss Grace Homan spent Sunday and Monday in Rockford the guest of her brother, H. Homan and family.

Frank Dodge of Burlington is in Janesville today.

Walter Malone of Johnston, spent the day Monday in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Avery of Chicago are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Avery of the Woods apartments.

Harry Ryan left this morning for Milwaukee. He expects to resume his studies at Marquette university later.

Rev. Eugene Reilly went to Milwaukee this morning.

The Twentieth Century class met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Victor P. Richardson. It was a preliminary meeting, to arrange for the winter work.

The class expects to take up dramatic art, relating to the different countries. The next meeting will be a miscellaneous program and will be held on Monday, Oct. 19th, with Mrs. C. S. Jackman on East street.

Edward Stabler of this city, was a Brodhead business visitor recently.

Miss Jennie Kellough of Evansville, spent the last of the week with Janesville friends.

Mrs. Cora Liston entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Sperry of Evansville, the last of the week.

Miss Elsie Jacke of this city, is visiting her brother, Hans Jacke, of Edgerton, for the week.

Miss Florence Nuzum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Nuzum, had the misfortune to turn her foot and break a small bone in her ankle.

Mrs. Charles Miller of Milton Avenue, have gone to Indiana, where they will visit their mother for the next week.

Mrs. Alice Williams and Harry Herdley of Milton Junction, spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Division to Meet: Division No. 9 of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Herbert Adams, 425 Center avenue, Wednesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

St. Patrick's Court No. 318: Take notice. The graded assessment notice will be read at our regular meeting, October 7, 1914.

Mary Raynor, Rec. Sec.

Debris Fire: For the second time in two days the fire department was called out at six o'clock last evening to extinguish a rubbish pile fire on the river banks of Western avenue at the foot of Cherry street. One lead of hose was strung to flood the brush piles and debris at the time.

When you think of Insurance think of C. P. Beers.

Master Masons: Western Star Lodge No. 14 meets in regular communication tonight, work in the E. R. degree. Fred Palmer, W. M.

Regular meeting of Rock County No. 736, F. A. A., will be held this evening, Oct. 6, at the Caledonia room. All members are requested to present as business of importance will come before the council. Henrietta Kruse, Secy.

Meets Tomorrow: Division No. 10 of the Congregational church meets Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Anna P. Prichard, 345 South Main street.

At Builders' Exchange: Plans for a new high school buildings. Members can see the same by calling at the office.

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD TO HOLD BANQUET TONIGHT

Tonight the Methodist church brotherhood will hold their first banquet, opening the organization work for the year. Following the banquet there will be election of officers.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank all those friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us with their sympathy, labor and floral offerings at the time of the funeral of our son and brother, George W. Jones.

W. S. JONES AND FAMILY.

Property changes hands daily because it has been advertised in the real estate column of Gazette Want Ads.

Walter Walsh of South Main street, left Monday evening for a business trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Mrs. Lauren Barclay and Mrs. J. D. Wallace of Evansville, motored to this city to spend the day, Saturday.

Mrs. J. Holt and daughter, Cora, attended a five o'clock tea party given in Edgerton to about sixty guests by Messdames Martin Titus, Atwood, Stewart and Frank Holt, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3rd.

A. C. Lindberg of Chicago, transacted business in this city on Monday.

George Thurman of Evansville, was a business caller in this city recently.

Miss Mildred Croft of Edgerton, was the guest of friends in this city on Sunday.

Charles Barnard of Evansville, is spending the day in Janesville.

Miss Egan of the public library, has returned from a Chicago visit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Funk have for their guest this week, R. H. Guedeman of Los Angeles, California.

L. Francis Connors returned home last evening from Chicago, where he has been spending the past two weeks.

Mr. Hamilton Richardson, and daughter of Milwaukee, are visiting relatives in this city.

Dr. Hoag of Evansville was a Janesville visitor on Saturday.

The W. C. U. will meet with Mrs. Alfred Olson at 629 Logan street, Riverview, on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Walls of Memphis, Tenn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallis of Milwaukee street. They will leave for Madison soon, where they expect to make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amerpohl have returned home from a Brodhead visit of a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Palmer of 427 Logan street, Forest Park, are entertaining this week, Mrs. H. Turrell of Beloit.

Mrs. A. P. Loveloy of Prospect avenue, gave a one o'clock luncheon today in honor of her sister, Mrs. Phillips of Reno, Nevada, and Miss Florence Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans entertained over Sunday their daughter, Mrs. Allie Mead and two children of Fulton, Wis.

Dr. C. W. Hawkey and J. M. Myers of Beloit, Ill., are spending the day in this city.

Mrs. Robert Lee and son, who have been visiting relatives in this city for the past month, left for their home in Portland, Oregon, Monday evening.

Charles Fitch of Wheaton, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Kimlin of South Main street.

Mr. Fitch is superintendent of the Knob Hill Stock Farm at Wheaton, Wis., is a Janesville visitor today.

Mr. Charles Fitch and daughter, Lily, and Mrs. Albert Neitzel and daughter, Elizabeth, have returned from a visit with relatives at Chicago.

SENIORS FAILED TO ORGANIZE AS CLASS

Fourth Year Students, Not Yet Seniors, Mar First Session of Upper Classmen Yesterday.

The senior class at the high school met yesterday afternoon at the close of school for the purpose of organizing themselves into a permanent body, and to elect officers. All this was done in a businesslike manner, but because there were a few of the meeting who were fourth year students, but unable to qualify as seniors, the so-called qualified seniors will have to meet and go through the process again. This session was called for this afternoon at four o'clock.

In past years the seniors have held their elections and organized classes without of any faculty supervision to speak of, and in this way many students, who may have been fourth year pupils, but were not qualified seniors, were permitted to pay senior class dues, and enjoy all the liberties along with the qualified seniors.

At yesterday's session officers were elected, some of whom are not duly qualified seniors. Also many other students not seniors attended the meeting and voted. It is rather unusual for the students to face real class organization, with rules to live by, as shown by the way the fourth year students strayed into the session Monday.

Reduce your gas bill one-third with the combination Gas and Coal Range sold at this store. Demonstration at this week.

Talk To Lowell.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

Read the want ads—not only to night, but every night.

SENDS SHIPMENTS OF DAHLIAS TO CHICAGO

J. T. Fitchett of This City Supplies Marshall Field and Company Twice Each Week.

J. T. Fitchett, florist in this city, and who is noted for his beautiful varieties of dahlias, has received a standing order from the big firm of Marshall Field and Company in Chicago to provide them with fresh cut flowers of this variety twice each week.

The first order sent Mr. Fitchett called for four hundred flowers of the assorted dahlias. Later he received another order for eight hundred, accompanied by a letter, in which Marshall Field demanded shipments twice each week of eight hundred flowers to be sent in each shipment.

Mr. Fitchett has won first premiums in every exhibit he has entered his displays this fall during the late summer and fall. His varieties at the Geneva last week were prized very highly.

CONTRACTOR HAS LEG BROKEN IN CAVE-IN

Mr. Terry, of the firm of Hughes and Terry, road builders, had his left leg broken both at the ankle and above the knee when a pit in the village of Footville caved in late this morning. Workmen dug Mr. Terry from the filled pit and the broken bones were set in Footville. He returned to his home in this city today.

The firm is constructing a roadway near Footville and expected to finish the work today.

Easy Economy.

When lighting the gas do not turn the key on full, but only four-fifths of the way, and see that sufficient air enters through the air passage. This will eliminate the hissing and give proportional flow of air and gas. When the mantle gets black throw a little ordinary salt in the same from the top, which will consume the carbon and make your mantle clear and white.

Firm Stand.

"Have you decided what appointment you will ask for?" "No," replied the applicant for appointment, "but I took a firm stand and let the administration know that on its action depends my decision on the advisability of granting more than a single presidential term."—Washington Star.

BOAT ON NEW LINES

A Shallow-draught Craft Which Is Driven by a Propeller.

A novelty in marine propulsion has been recently invented which is designed to make use of the propeller in shallow water. Usually the blades of the propeller are suspended at a point below the bottom of the boat and this necessarily adds much to the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

the draught of the vessel, but by the new invention referred to, the propeller takes the form of a long screw and is housed in a channel made through the length of the craft from the bow to the stern. This enables the water to reach the screw and the latter to act on it and drive the craft ahead.

Gave Him Away.

Master (who, is trying to make a good impression on his strait-faced aunt from whom he has expectations)—"Mary, have you seen a letter anywhere about marked 'Private'?" Mary—"You mean the one from the man what can't get 'is money out of you, sir? I put it behind the mirror, sir."—Punch.

Connoisseur of Works.

"Perhaps you are familiar with the works of Ingersoll?" smilingly inquired the book salesman, as he reached under his coat for the sample bindings. "Sure I am," replied Mr. Goldberg, the jeweler; "undt it's a good watch for der money!"—Lippincott's.

Party Really Interested.

The public has more interest in the punishment of an injury than he who receives it.—Cato.

BOND SALE

Bids will be received by the undersigned for the sale of a $4000.00 school bond issue. Bonds in denomination of $500.00 each, due serially, $1000.00 each year commencing July 1st, 1915. Interest 4% per cent payable semi-annually at the office of the city treasurer, in January and July of each year. Address all bids to City Treasurer marked "Bids for School Bonds." The bids will be opened, Oct. 15, 1914.

Jas. A. Fathers, Mayor, W. H. Dougherty, City Atty., Geo. W. Muenchow, City Treas.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week. Talk To Lowell.

Don't overlook that ten-piece set of "Wear Ever" Aluminum, worth $7.00, which we give away free this week.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

BBETTER BE WRONG THAN POSITIVE.

UT I was right of think that must be a hereditary quality. For my father says he is scarcely ever wrong."

"Better be right than president" is a familiar saying, and very comfortable for those of us who don't seem to have any immediate chance of becoming the latter, but it is not to be too implicitly accepted. It is, indeed, splendid to be always right, but if you want to be happy also, you mustn't let other folks know about it.

I know a girl who is witty, pretty and wise. And yet she is not especially popular. And the trouble is that she is also a bit too right. She is right not only about her affairs, but about her neighbors', and she does not hide her light under a bushel. Far from it. She lets us all share in its effulgence. Of course we should all be grateful, and equally, of course, we are all the reverse.

Such is the ingratitude of human nature! Indeed, I think if a list of the seven deadly sins against lovableness were made out, the sin of being always right and of letting folks know it, would be the worst of the list.

Of course the person who is always right is sometimes trying. Yet we seldom dislike him. In fact, I think we are apt to be fond of him. We correct his mistakes, and let him know the way he should go, we glow with our own superiority, and he shines in the reflected gleams.

One of the inevitable results of positiveness is that when the person who is always right is wrong, everyone else is delighted. There is an old Roman proverb to the effect that a man will swim across the Tiber at midnight to carry the news that some supposedly honest man is a criminal. If this cynical estimate of human nature is true, a man would probably swim two or three times across the Tiber, to convey the good news that someone who is always right is wrong.

If positiveness is offensive in a man, it is doubly so in a woman. We expect a certain degree of positiveness in a man. It is part of the masculine temperament to be right. Before these degenerate days of feminism, every man was always sure of a small feminine circle which accepted his opinion as an oracle, and it will take more than one generation of feminism to shake men out of the complacency that engendered. But to paraphrase a familiar bromide: "It's bad enough to see a man positive, but oh a woman!"

"All of which is perfectly natural. The prima need of woman is love, and since positiveness is the first of the seven deadly sins against lovableness, no woman can thus afford to alienate her own from her."

The Kitchen Cabinet

The comfortable and comforting people are those who look upon the bright side of life, gathering roses and sunshine and making the worst that happens seem the best.

UNSUCCESSFUL COOKERY.

The old refrain, "there is no luck about the house, there is no luck at all," is one too well and often sung by the new housekeeper, as well as many careless older ones. Bad luck in cookery is almost always one of three things—poor materials, poor measuring or mixing and poor cooking.

When meat soup has a strong, unpalatable flavor, it is because the fat has not been skimmed from it.

Thin, watery soup is either undercooked or too much water has been added.

Cabbage that is strong and scents the house has been cooked in a covered kettle.

When stewed or boiled meat is tough it is because it has been boiled, not simmered long and slowly.

Angel cake and sponge cake are tough if too much beaten, or are coarse if not well mixed. Both should be baked in a slow oven, about 240 degrees Fahrenheit.

Omelets are tough when milk is added instead of water and when they are beaten too light. Salt should be added to the omelet when it is partly cooked.

Pondant grains if the sugar is allowed to grain on the side of the pan when boiling, add cream of tartar or a small amount of glucose.

Cakes crack open when too much flour has been used or the oven is too hot at first.

Peppers need strong heat at the bottom and should be baked a long time.

Coffee will not be good if the water added is not boiling hot. It is better to start with cold water rather than partly heated water.

Cream will not whip unless it be 36 hours old. Add a small amount of vinegar to thin cream and it will whip even if it is separated the same day.

Whole wheat bread should be as light as white bread. If not, too much flour has been used.

When pineapple is used with gelatin a little more should be added, as there is a ferment in pineapple which digests gelatin.

Nellie Maxwell

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Sweet oil will remove finger marks from varnished furniture.

The addition of a little sugar to the water in which turnips are cooked will improve the flavor.

Glycerin may be used for cleaning material on which coffee has been spilled.

Varnished paper on walls should be cleaned with a flannel dipped in kerosene and polished with a dry cloth.

When making aprons, especially those to be used in doing housework, do not forget a large pocket. It will save money a step in dusting and picking up.

THE TABLE.

Baked Chestnuts—Remove the shells from one pint of chestnuts, put in a baking dish, cover with chicken stock highly seasoned with salt and cayenne and bake until soft. Keep covered until nearly done. There should be a small quantity of stock in the pan to serve with the chestnuts.

Chestnut Purée—Remove the shells from the chestnuts, cook until soft in boiling salted water, drain, moisten with scalded milk, season with salt and pepper and beat until light. Chestnuts are often boiled, rice and piled lightly in the center of a dish and then surrounded by meat.

Chestnut Pudding—Boil and skin enough chestnuts to make a cupful when rubbed through a colander or vegetable press. Beat four eggs light, add the chestnuts, into yolks, add a tablespoonful of melted butter and two cupfuls of milk, a tablespoon of sugar, salt and pepper to taste, lastly, the frothed whites. Bake, covered in a buttered pudding dish for half an hour, uncover, brown and serve before it falls. Eat with meat.

Chestnut Croquettes—Shell and boil five cupfuls of large chestnuts; skin and rub through a colander, work into them a tablespoonful of butter, a little salt, and a few drops of lemon juice and a dash of paprika. Turn into a double boiler and let it get very hot, then set aside to cool. When cold form into small croquettes, roll in egg, then in cracker crumbs and set on the ice for an hour before frying in deep boiling fat. Drain on brown paper and serve.

English Meat Pie—Knuckle of veal, one slice of onion, on side of calf, one of bay leaf, sprig of parsley, twelve peppercorns, blade of mace, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half pound of raw ham, four tablespoonfuls of flour for thickening, of butter, two dozen bearded oysters. Remove the meat from the bones. Cover the bones with cold water, add the meat and reduce the stock to two cups. Put the ham in a frying pan, cover with lukewarm water and let stand on the back of the range for one hour. Brown the butter, add the flour and when well browned add the stock; then add the veal and the ham and simmer for twenty minutes. Let simmer twenty minutes and add the oysters. Put in serving dish and cover with top made of puff paste. It is much better to bake the paste separately and cover pie just before sending to the table.

The Awakening of Peggy

KC.

In Which Our Story Ends Happily for Nearly All Concerned.

If Parker Condrey had been away for nearly a week, Peggy reflected, he could not have heard any of Patty's stores, and so could not have been influenced in any way. So the whole trouble was a tempest in a teacup.

Had Condrey heard the gossip, he doubtless would have dismissed it from his mind without a moment's serious consideration. When girls are bound to marry, though any small trouble will suffice for a big grief.

When Condrey called, he was bubbling with news. Peggy wanted to know what he had seen or talked with Patty Smith, and when she had satisfied herself by indirect inquiries, she let him go on with the story which he seemed anxious to tell.

"I had a telegram from father," he said. "It told me to take the first train, and didn't give any particulars. The first train was leaving right away, and I caught it. I was just in time to see you."

"Well, to make it short, dad has decided to call me in from these road jobs. He says I've made good enough to suit him. Now he has a place for me in the main office, where he says I can show right under his eye. He wanted me to spend a year or two on construction work, so I would know the business from the ground up. That part is all right now, he thinks."

He said he wanted me to know that I gave promise of getting on just as well as though I had no dad behind me, which he thinks is the test. Now my real chance comes."

"I'm so glad for you!" exclaimed Peggy with shining eyes, as Condrey passed in his story. "I knew all along it would be that way!"

"There's something else father said," Condrey continued in a lower tone. "He looked me square in the eye and said, 'Young man, you needn't deny it, because I know it's so. You have met a girl while you've been on this job, a girl you think a lot of. Now what I want to know is, is she the right sort of girl for you? If you're going to shoulder this business some day, the kind of girl you marry is a mighty important thing.'"

Condrey paused and looked at Peggy, who was downcast and glancing furtively.

"Oh, well, you know what I told him," he added. "But in spite of his feeling that Peggy was 'displeased,' he couldn't go on for the life of him. They both were ridiculously happy."

Why pursue this narrative further? The esteemed as well as intelligent reader can furnish for himself the final details, thus sparing us the necessity of embarrassing Peggy and Condrey by putting their intimate little love story on paper.

(The End.)

EVERYDAY TALKS TO EVERYDAY PEOPLE

(BY FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.)

Arthur Blank had purchased a home. He was a plain, everyday man, earning a very modest salary, but he had married fifteen years and had five children. His neighbor, John Dash, had married the same spring that he had. There were two children in the family, and he was sure how the Blank's could purchase anything.

She would not admit ever to herself that the Blank family was primarily responsible for the home that they were moving into and would not have to move out of on account of a raise in rent, the place given to be sold.

One of the many reasons that people often do move for. She would not admit that Mrs. Blank was "a woman on the job" when it came to a woman's part of matrimony; that same woman, the mother of a fine family, did all her own work, all her own sewing and run her place like a very efficient general runs his army. Mrs. Blank had said she knew it to be so, that Blank left for work every morning in the week on time, with a happy, contented face and his shoulders squared as if he was doing his duty. She knew she had such splendid reasons for winning. Mrs. Dash hated to think of that side of the question—for she knew that Mrs. Blank had taken her from her father's home. True, Mrs. Blank looked older than Mrs. Dash, and they were the same age, but Mrs. Dash had hired much of her work, had gone to the lake on short trips and taken mighty good care of herself in general.

Both men, at the start, drawing the same salary, but Blank had hauled down two promotions, while Dash was still in line for his first. The man the men worked for could have told you, if he would, that Blank came to work bright-eyed, awake, ready to take up his day's work and continue it in unbroken calmness of mind all through the day. He could have told you that Dash came to work always hurried, a trifle behind the whistle, haggard, hollow-eyed and that the phone rang often, calling him from his work to settle some difficulty for his wife.

Mrs. Blank's wife could cook and she did the most of her own baking, as she had figured things out and discovered that she was making money by baking her own bread, pies, cakes and cookies. She also went often to market, and the merchant did not live in her town who would waste their time in trying to sell her inferior article at a first class price. Mrs. Blank knew every phase of her job and she was what you could call a "winner" in the game.

Dash's wife could cook, but she had not the time. She had so many outside interests to attend to, that really had to be looked after. She hired the most of her sewing, that same reason, and anything went wrong at home she hesitated not a minute to shelve it until her husband came in the evening, then dragged it forth for her to solve. "She never was worth two cents at these horrid figures, and keeping a home was so hard." Dash had to be a social light, also, for his pretty wife simply had to go places and must have an escort. If her husband rebelled at the way the bills mounted, or at being led about on a string she had what you would term a "scene" and as she slept a while each day she did not care how late into the night this scene lasted. She generally won out, for peace, though oftentimes exorbitantly high must be paid, if a man wants to hold down his job the next day.

Mrs. Dash stood in the window and bitterly watched the furniture men carry out the Blank's furniture, for

HOLD CHILD'S CONTEST AT MEDICAL MEETING

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 6.—"The Child's Contest" was expected to be a feature of the fifth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Medical Women's Society, which opened here today. The State Medical Society also opened its annual convention. The contest is under the direction of Dr. Carrie A. Frost of Chippewa Falls. Physical and mental tests were to be applied to children under two years of age who were entered in the contest.

The medical societies proper will devote most of the time in their meetings to discussion of technical subjects. It is expected today that some action may be taken as to legislation desired by the physicians. The day was occupied with convention preliminaries.

FIRST DOSE OF MAYR'S REMEDY PUTS STOMACH VICTIM ON JOB

Milwaukee Man Finds Quick Way to Escape Misery of Digestive Troubles.

Similar experiences are related in letters from thousands of users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy in all parts of the United States. It clears the digestive tract of mucus, accretions and poisonous matter, brings swift relief to sufferers from stomach ills, liver and intestinal troubles. Many declare that it has saved them from the most dangerous operations and many are sure that it saved their lives.

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter how long standing, to try one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy—One dose will convince you. This is the medicine so many of our people have been taking with surprising results. The most thorough system cleanser ever sold. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold by leading druggists everywhere.

William A. Ernst of 1184 Richards street, Milwaukee, was a victim of stomach disorders which made him miserable most of the time. He was often unable to work and he suffered severely.

Mr. Ernst took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and was surprised at the quick results. He wrote: "Your medicine has relieved me of about three hundred accretions and I have not passed any more since taking the last dose. I have not lost an hour of work since I have recommended your wonderful remedy to several of my friends and will recommend it to all who suffer as I did."

Provide your children and teachers with this delicious nut-brown bread. It will help them grow strong. It will keep their systems in order. That means clear heads for school work.

People with delicate digestions find Roman Meal Bread a splendid body conditioner. Made from the choicest of all grains, wheat, rye and flax.

Try Roman Meal Bread today. Order from your grocer. 10c for a fine, big loaf baked by

The Colvin Baking Co.

"The Sanitary Bakery"

Janesville Wisconsin

Roman Meal makes delicious pancakes, puddings, muffins and any number of other good things. 2c for a big 3-lb. package.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.

Artistic Bjur Bros. Pianos

Good Words Come From Lawrence Conservatory of Music Appleton, Wis.

Appleton, Wis., September 12, 1914.

The Public:—

We take pleasure in announcing that J. G. MOHR, our tuner, is supplying us with the BJUR BROS. piano. We have just procured three new Bjur Bros. Grand and seventeen Bjur Bros. Uprights for study and practice use. We expect to replace all of our old pianos with this excellent product. We heartily recommend them as very superior instruments both in tone and action.

Yours very truly,

FREDERICK VANCE EVANS,

Dean, Lawrence Conservatory of Music, Appleton, Wis., Sept. 14, 1914.

I have been using a Bjur Bros. upright piano in my studio together with a Steinhilber Grand during the last year. I am so well pleased with the instrument that I am now using a similar one in my home. I consider the Bjur Bros. piano one of the best I have ever used, it possesses a fine tone and a remarkably dependable action.

LUDOLPH ARENS,

Professor of Pianoforte, Lawrence Conservatory of Music.

These testimonials in favor of the BJUR BROS. Grand and Upright Pianos, coming as they do direct from the Professor of Pianoforte, and Dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, Appleton, Wis., surely means something worthy of attention to the public and musicians of our state as well as other states.

The BJUR BROS. Piano is known as a piano of superior quality and I would say again to those who are anticipating the purchase of a fine piano, either a Grand or an Upright, to call at my music store and see the BJUR BROS. Piano.

Sold by

H. F. NOTT 313 West Milwaukee St.

Dealer in Pianos of Superior Quality.

Classified Want Ads.

A woman in our own home town was desirous of enlarging her income. That, in most cases, is a perfectly legitimate desire and one that the most of us at one time or another have had enter our minds. Allowing it to enter, we have entertained it royally, by plans and ways and means.

The woman mentioned was energetic and willing—but she was not up to scratch in modern methods. Consequently she was handicapped. She planned and wished—but it is action that generally lights the glow of our desire.

Another woman, a neighbor, also had in mind that she could find a place for a few dollars earned by herself, weekly, and not weary herself with the seeking.

But she was not content to plan and wish. She acted. She could crochet baby bonnets and booties right up to the queens' taste.

She fashioned a dear little bonnet and a pair of wee booties, and then she proceeded to find a market for her goods. They would never bring her a cent, wrapped carefully away in the bureau drawer. She inserted an ad in the want ad page of her daily paper to the effect that orders would be taken for children's bonnets and boots. The prices were not exorbitant and that woman is to-day earning money at home and with it paying for music for her two children.

All argument to the contrary—advertising does pay!

GRANDMA SEZ—TUESDAY.

"WE'VE HED OUR BARREL OF SWEET CIDER 'BOUT THREE WEEKS NOW, AN' I'D OLD YER GRABBA TUBET I THOUGHT IT WUZ 'BOUT TIME TFW TAKE OUT THE SPIGOT AN' PUT IN THE BUNG."

"A SHINE IN EVERY DROP"

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not leave a sticky residue, it is the last drop, liquid and ready to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Black Silk Stove Polish

is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant shine that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not rub off—it lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—and it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want to shine your stove, ask for Black Silk Stove Polish. It's the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will tell you.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

Use Black Silk Stove Polish for all metal surfaces, including brass, iron, steel, tin, copper, zinc, nickel, chrome, etc. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use. It is the only one that is so easy to use.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Perhaps Father Better Have Them Buy Their Clothes—

BY E. LEIDZIGER

The Last Shot

By FREDERICK PALMER

(Copyright, 1914, by Charles Scribner's Sons)

For once Dellarme's cheery smile deserted him. There was no one left to man the automatic, so vital in the defense, and even if somebody could be found the gun was probably out of commission. As he started toward it his smile, already summoned back, was shot with surprise at sight of the gun in place and a stranger in blue blouse, white hair showing through a crownless straw hat, trying out the mechanism with knowing fingers. Dellarme stared. Feller, unconscious of everything but the gun, righted the cartridge band, swung the barrel back and forth, and then fired a shot.

"You—you seem to know rapid-fire!" Dellarme exclaimed in blank incomprehension.

"Yes, sir!" Feller raised his finger, whether in salute as a soldier or as a gardener touching his hat it was hard to say.

"But how—where?" gasped Dellarme. This time the movement of the finger was undoubtedly in salute, in perfect, swift, military salute, with head thrown back and shoulders stiff. Feller the gardener was dead and buried without ceremony.

"Lanstron's class, school for officers, sir. Stood one in ballistics, prize medalist control of gun-fire. Yes, sir, I know something about rapid-fires." Feller replied, and fired a few more shots. "A little high, a little low—right, my lady, right!"

Straneky was back in his place next to the automatic and firing whenever a head appeared. He rolled his eyes in a characteristic squint of scrutiny toward the new recruit.

"Bent spraying rose-bushes for bugs, eh, old man?" he asked.

"Yes, a lead solution is best for gray bugs!" Feller remarked punctually, and their glances meeting, they saw in each other's eyes the joy of hell.

"A pair of anarchists!" exclaimed Straneky, grinning, and tried a shot for another head.

As if in answer to prayer, a gunner had come out of the earth. Suffice it to the need was the fact. It was not for Dellarme to ask questions of a prize-medalist graduate of the school for officers in a blue blouse and crownless straw hat. His expert survey assured him that before another rush the enemy had certain preparations to make. He might give his fighting smile a recess and permit himself a few minutes' relaxation.

Looking around to ascertain what damage had been done to the house and grounds, he became aware of Dellarme's presence for the first time.

"Miss Galland, you—you weren't there during the fighting?" he cried as he ran toward her.

"Yes," she said rather faintly. "If I had known that I should have been scared to death!"

"But I was safe behind the pillar," she explained.

"Miss Galland, you're such a good soldier—please—and I'm sure you have not had your breakfast, and all good soldiers never neglect their rations, not at the beginning of a war!" Miss Galland, please—Yes, as he meant it, please be a good fellow.

She could not resist smiling at the charming manner of his plea. She felt weak and strange—a little dizzy.

Besides, her mother's voice now came from the doorway and then her mother's hand was pressing her arm.

"Marta, if you remain out here, I shall!" announced Mrs. Galland.

"I was just coming in."

Dellarme, his cap held before him in the jaunty fashion of officers, bowed, his face beaming his happiness at her decision.

"Come!" Mrs. Galland slipped her hand into Marta's. "Two women can't fight both armies. Come! I prescribe hot coffee. It is waiting; and, do you know, I find a meal in the kitchen very cozy."

Being human and not a heroine fed on lotos blossoms, and being exhausted and so hungry, when she was seated at table, with Minna adroitly urging her, Marta ate with the relish of little Peterkin in the shell crater munching biscuits from his haversack, but the movement of the minute-hand on the clock-face became uncanny and merciless to her eye in its deliberate regularity. Dellarme had been told to hold on until noon, she knew. Was he still smiling? Was Feller still happy in playing a stream of lead from the automatic? Was the second charge of the Grays, which must have come to close quarters when the guns went silent, going to succeed?

Mrs. Galland had settled down conscientiously to play solitaire, a favorite pastime of hers; but she failed to win, as she complained to Marta, because of her stupid way this morning of missing the combination cards.

After a long intermission came another outburst from Dellarme's men, which she interpreted as the response to another rush by the Grays; and this yelping of the demon was not that of the hound after the hare, as in the valley, but of the hare with his back to the wall. When it was over there was no cheer. What did this mean? Without warning to her mother she bolted out of the kitchen. Mrs. Galland sprang up to follow, but Minna barred the way.

"One is enough!" she said firmly, and Mrs. Galland dropped back into her chair.

In the front rooms Marta found havoc beyond her imagination. A portion of the ceiling had been blown out by a shell entering at an up-stairs window; the hardwood floors were littered with plaster and window-glass and ripped into splinters in places.

But she hurried on, impelled by she knew not what, through the dining-room, and, coming to the veranda, stopped short, with dilating eyes and a cry of grievous shock. Two of his men were carrying Dellarme back from the breastwork, where they had caught him in their arms as he fell. They laid him gently on the sward with a knapsack under his head. His face grew whiter with the flow of blood from the red hole in the right breast of his blouse. Then he opened his lips and whispered to the doctor: "How is it?" Something in his eyes, in the tone of that faint question, required the grace of a soldier's truth in answer.

"Bad!" said the doctor. "Then, goodbye!" And his head fell to one side, his lips set in his cheery smile.

His company was a company with his smile out of its heart and in its place blank despair. Many of the men had stopped firing. Some had even run back to look at him and stood, caps off, backs to the enemy, miserable in their grief. Others leaned against the parapet, rifles out of hand, staring and dazed.

"They have killed our captain!" "They've killed our captain!"—still a captain to them. A general's stars could not have raised him a cubit in their estimation.

"And once we called him 'Baby Dellarme,' he was so young and bashful! Him a baby? He was a king!"

"Men, get to your places!" cried the surviving lieutenant rather hopelessly, with no Dellarme to show him what to do; and Marta saw that few paid any attention to him.

In that minute of demoralization the Grays had their chance, but only for a minute. A voice that seemed to speak some uncontrollable thought of her own broke in, and it rang with the authority and leadership of mature officer's command, even though coming from a gardener in blue blouse and crownless straw hat.

"Your rifles, your rifles, quick!" called Feller. "We're only beginning to fight!"

And then another voice in a bull roar, Straneky's:

"Avenge his death! They've got to kill the last man of us for killing him! Revenge! Revenge!"

That cry brought back to the company all the fighting spirit of the cheery smile and with it another spirit—for Dellarme's sake—which he had never taught them.

Straneky picked up one of several cylindrical objects that were lying at his feet.

"He wouldn't use this—he was too soft-hearted—but I will!" he cried, and flung a hand-grenade, and then a second, over the breastwork. The explosions were followed by agonized groans from the Grays hugging the lower side of the terrace. For this they had crawled across the road in the night—to find themselves unable to move either way and directly under the flashes of the Browns' rifles.

Feller's and Straneky's shouts rose together in a peculiar unity of direction and full of the fellowship they had found in their first exchange of glances.

"You engineers, make ready!"

"Hand-grenades to the men under the tree! That's where they're going to try for it—no way to climb over there!"

"You engineers, take your rifles—and bayonet into anything that wears gray!"

"Get back, you men by the tree, to avoid their hand-grenades! Form up behind them, everybody!"

"No matter if they do get in at first! Back, you men, from under the tree!"

There was not a single rifle-shot. In a silence like that before the word to fire in a duel, all orders were heard and the more readily obeyed because Dellarme's foresight had impressed their sense upon the men in his quiet way.

The sand-bags by the tree were blown up by the Grays. Then, before the dust had hardly settled, came a half score of hand-grenades thrown by the first men of a Gray wedge, scrambling as they were pushed through the breach by the pressure of the mass behind. In that final struggle of one set of men to gain and another to hold a position, guns or automatics or long-range bullets played no part.

It was the grapple of cold steel with cold steel and muscle with muscle, in the billowing, twisting mob of wrestlers, with no sound from throats but straining breaths; with no quarter, no distinction of person, and bloodshot eyes and faces hot with the effort of brute strength striving, in primitive desperation, to kill in order not to be killed. The cloud of rooking, writhing arms and shoulders was neither going forward nor backward. Its movement was that of a vortex, while the gray stream kept on pouring through the breach as if it were only the first flood from some gray lake on the other side of the breastwork.

Marta had come to the edge of the veranda, at once drawn and repelled, feeling the fearful suspense of the combat, the savage horror of it, and herself uttering sounds like the straining breaths of the men. What a place for her to be! But she did not think of that. She was there. The dreadful alchemy of war had made her a stranger to herself. She was mad; they were mad; all the world was mad!

One minute—the two, perhaps—not three—and the thing was over. She saw the Grays being crushed back and realized that the Browns had won, while the last details of the lessening tumult fixed her attention with their gladiatorial simplicity. Here, indeed, it was a case of man to man with the weapons nature gave him.

"I thought so!" cried Feller. "Attacks on frontal positions by daylight are going out of fashion!"

It was he who mercifully arrested the shower of hand-grenades that followed the exit of the enemy. Two of the guns of the castle batteries, having changed their position, were making havoc enough at pointblank range, with a choice of targets between the Grays huddled on the other side of the breastwork and those in retreat.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner Stories

"It was a dreadful moment," said the dentist, "I was bathing quietly when the great, cavernous jaws of the shark opened before me. "What did you do?" asked one of the ladies.

"I took my forepaws out of the pocket of my bathing suit and pulled my teeth before he had a chance to seize me. It was the quickest and nearest bit of work I ever did."

Mr. Plowden, the well-known London magnate, who has just retired from the bench, has a great repertoire of good stories.

His favorite one relates to a case in which he appeared as counsel. In the course of this case, he had to cross-examine the wife of a notorious burglar.

"You are the wife of this man?" he asked.

"I am," she replied.

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?" he proceeded.

"I did," she admitted.

"How could you possibly marry such a man?" Mr. Plowden demanded.

"Well, it was like this," the witness explained confidentially. "I was getting old, and two chaps wanted to marry me. It wasn't easy to choose between 'em, but in the end I married Bill there. The other chap was a lawyer, same as you, sir."

THE WORLD SET FREE

EUROPE'S ARMAGEDDON AND THE LAST WAR.

By H. G. WELLS.

Copyright, 1914, by H. G. Wells.

"Not counting those. Of course the present indexing of research is in itself a very big work, and it is only now that we are getting it properly done. But already we are feeling the benefit of that. Since it ceased to be a paid employment and became a devotion, we have had only those people who obeyed the call of an aptitude at work upon these things. Here—I must show you it today because it will interest you—we have our copy of the encyclopedic index—every week sheets are taken out and replaced by fresh sheets with new results that are brought to us by the aeroplanes of the research department. It is an index of knowledge that grows continually, an index that becomes continually truer. There was never anything like it before."

"When I came into the education committee," said Karenin, "that index of human knowledge seemed an impossible thing. Research had produced a chaotic mountain of results, in a hundred languages and a thousand different types of publication." He smiled at his memories. "How we grunted at the job!"

"Already the ordering of that chaos is nearly done. You shall see."

"I have been so busy with my own work. Yes, I shall be glad to see."

The patient regarded the surgeon for a time with interested eyes. "You work here always?" he asked abruptly.

"No," said Fowler.

"But mostly you work here?"

"I have worked about seven years out of the past ten. At times I go away—down there. One has to. At least, I have to. There is a sort of grayness comes over all this, one feels hungry for life, real, personal, passionate life, love-making, eating and drinking for the fun of the thing, jostling crowds, having adventures, laughter—above all, laughter!"

"Yes," said Karenin understandingly. "And then, one day, suddenly one thinks of these high mountains again."

"That is how I would have lived if it had not been for my—defects," said Karenin. "Nobody knows but those who have borne it the exasperation of abnormality. It will be good when you have nobody alive whose body cannot live the wholesome everyday life, whose spirit cannot come up into these high places as it will."

"We shall manage that soon," said Fowler.

"For endless generations man has struggled upward against the indignities of his body and the indignities of his soul. Pains, incapacities, vile fears, black moods, despairs. How well I've known them. They've taken more time than all your holidays. It is true, is it not, that every man is something of a cripple and something of a beast? I've dipped a little deeper than most, that's all. It's only now, when he has fully learned the truth of that, that he can take hold of himself to be neither beast nor cripple. Now that he overcomes his servitude to his body, he can for the first time think of living the full life of his body. Before another generation dies you'll have the thing in hand. You'll do as you please with the old Adam and all the old vestiges from the brutes and reptiles that lurk in his body and spirit. Isn't that so?"

"You put it boldly," said Fowler.

Karenin laughed cheerfully at his caution.

"When," asked Karenin suddenly, "when will you operate?"

"The day after tomorrow," said Fowler. "For a day I want you to drink and eat as I shall prescribe. And you may think and talk as you please."

"You shall go through it this afternoon. I will have two men carry you in a litter. And tomorrow you shall lie out upon the terrace. Our mountains here are the most beautiful in the world."

The next morning Karenin got up early and watched the sun rise over the mountains and breakfasted lightly, and then young Gardener, his secretary, came to consult him upon the spending of his day. Would he care to see people, or was this gnawing pain within him too much to permit him to do that?

"I'd like to talk," said Karenin. "There must be all sorts of lively minded people here. Let them come and gossip with me. It will distract me, and I can't tell you how interesting it makes everything that is going on to have seen the dawn of one's last day."

"Your last day?"

"Fowler will kill me."

"But he thinks not."

"Fowler will kill me. If he does not he will not leave very much of me. So that this is my last day anyhow. The days afterward, if they come at all to me, will be refuse. I know."

Gardener was about to speak when Karenin went on again:

"I hope he kills me, Gardener. Don't be old-fashioned. The thing I am most afraid of is that last rag of life. I may just go on—a scoured sear of suffering stuff. And then all the things I have hidden and kept down or discounted or set right afterward will get the better of me. I shall be peevish."

I may lose my grip upon my own egoism. It's never been a very firm grip. No, no, Gardener, don't say that. You know better; you've had glimpses of it. Suppose I came through on the other side of this affair, belittled, vain and spiteful, using the prestige I have got among men by my good work in the past just to serve some small, invalid purpose?"

He was silent for a time, watching the mists among the distant precipices change to clouds of light and drift and dissolve before the searching rays of the sun.

"Yes," he said at last; "I am afraid of these anaesthetics and these fog clouds of life. It's life we are all afraid of. Death! Nobody minds just death. Fowler is clever, but some day surgery will know its duty better and not be so anxious just to save something, provided only that it quivers. I've tried to hold my end up properly and do my work. After Fowler has done with me I am certain I shall be unfit for work. And what else is there for me? I know I shall not be fit for work."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

"I do not see why life should be judged by its last trailing thread of vitality. I know it for the splendid thing it is—I, who have been a disencumbered creature from the beginning. I know it well enough not to confuse it with its husks. Remember that, Gardener, if presently my heart fails me and I despair and if I go through a little phase of pain and ingratitude, I don't think forgetfulness before the end. Don't believe what I may say at the last. If the fabric is good enough the selvage doesn't matter. It can't matter. So long as you are alive you are just the moment perhaps, but when you are dead then you are all your life."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Last Days of Karenin.

PRESENTLY, in accordance with his wish, people came to talk to him, and he could forget himself again. Rachel Borken sat for a long time with him and talked chiefly of women in the world, and with her was a girl named Edith Haydon, who was already very well known as a cytologist, and several of the younger men who were working in the place and a patient named Kahn, a poet, and Edwards, a designer of plays and shows, spent some time with him. The talk wandered from point to point and came back upon itself and became now earnest and now trivial, as the chance suggestions determined. But soon afterward Gardener wrote down notes of things he remembered, and it is possible to put together again the outlook of Karenin upon the world and how he thought and felt about many of the principal things in life.

"Our age," he said, "has been so far an age of scene shifting. We have been preparing a stage, clearing away the setting of a drama that was played out and growing tiresome. If I could but sit out the first few scenes of the new spectacle!"

"How encumbered the world had become! It was ailing as I am ailing with a growth of unmeaning things. It was entangled, feverish, confused. It was in sore need of release, and I suppose that nothing less than the violence of those bombs could have released it and made it a healthy world again. I suppose they were necessary. Just as everything turns to evil in a fevered body, so everything seemed turning to evil in those last years of the old time. Everywhere there were obsolete organizations seizing upon all the new fine things that science was giving to the world, nationalities, all sorts of political bodies, the churches and sects, proprietorship, seizing upon those great powers and limitless possibilities and turning them to evil uses. And they would not suffer open speech; they would not permit of education; they would let no one be educated to the needs of the new time. You who are younger cannot imagine the mixture of desperate hope and protesting despair in which we who could believe in the possibilities of science lived in those years before atomic energy came."

"It was not only that the mass of people would not attend, would not understand, but that those who did understand lacked the power of real belief. They said the things, they saw the things and the things meant nothing to them."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Decorating the Eyebrows. It is generally agreed that a woman's eyebrows should be delicately and nicely pencilled, but fancy plays strange freaks as to color. In central Africa women

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

A New Home Cure That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a New Method that cures Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, tapers, "parent smokers," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our own expense, that this new method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms at once and for all time.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write today and receive the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do It Today.

FREE ASTHMA COUPON

FRONTIER ASTHMA CO., Room 4237
Niagara and Hudson Sts., Buffalo, N.Y.
Send free trial of your method to:

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Alfred W. Lurvey et al. to Ralph T. Hart E. 1/2 section 24-4-11, Peter M. Baird and wife to W. E. H. Field and 1/2 part SW. 1/4, NE. 1/4, section 24-10, $2,000.
Tillie Dodge to Mrs. Henry Hood Sr., lots 1 and 2, block 2 Chandler's addition, Clinton, $1,500.

J. R. Chamberlain to Nora May Chamberlain, his wife, lot 7, block 1, Rockville's 2nd addition, Beloit, $1,000.
M. P. Shannahan et al. to J. R. Chamberlain, part S. 1/2, 1/2 section 6-2-14, $500.

Mrs. Cora M. Downham and husband to Helmut Brandt, lot 14, block 5, State's addition, Beloit, $1.
John E. Kennedy and wife to Herman Kaskuskie and wife, lot 12, block 6, Pixley and Shaw's 2nd addition, $1.

FAIRFIELD

Fairfield, October 4.—The L. S. S. meets with Mrs. Mary Baldwin, Thursday afternoon, October 8th.

Mrs. Anna Brodhead and Darlen and Miss Mary Berg of Oak Park spent Sunday at A. L. Brodhead's.

Mrs. E. Richards' cousin and family of Janesville spent Sunday with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tarrant of Beloit were guests of his brother Roy this past week.

Mrs. S. Serl has been enjoying a visit from her father and sister, Mr. Coon and Miss Nettie of Milton, and a cousin, Mrs. Zella Endoe of Sloan, Iowa.

A. L. Thomson motored to Waupun Saturday.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The woman's missionary societies of the First Congregational church will meet at three o'clock Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. The program will be as follows: From foreign text book: "Need Enough, Chance Enough," Mrs. Cobb. "Power Enough," Mrs. Spoon. Current events and collection. From home mission text book: "Church Agencies," Mrs. Kelsey. Picnic supper in charge of Mrs. Dullock and Mrs. Berg of the congregation are welcome.

FATHER BECCARIA LOOKS FOR ITALY TO JOIN ENGLAND

Chaplain at Mercy Hospital Gives Views on Italian Status in Conflict of Nations.

Probably the next big event in the world's war will be the advent of Italy on the side of the allies. Austria evidently has been informed to the effect that Italy is about to plunge into the fray, for she is mounting heavy artillery on the fortifications of Roquette, a mountain pass at the Italian frontier termination of the Lago di Garda and surrounding all approaches to the forts with barbed wire entanglements. The roads in all directions have been mined by the Austrians and trenches are being dug. Preparations of similar characteristics are in progress everywhere.

There are intimations that Austria has already made overtures for peace with Russia so that she may be free to combat Italy and Serbia. It is understood from newspaper reports that the Czar has notified Italy, "to re-take Trieste and Lombardy now, if she expects to get them in the final adjustment." These provinces were wrested from Italy by Austria and this fact will never be forgotten for an instant by Italians.

Germany also seems to foresee the inevitable entry of Italy, as shown by the curt messages sent directly by the Kaiser to the king of Italy warning him that his "treason to the triple alliance would never be forgotten."

The general impression is that Italy will find her weight against Germany within a short time, at the period of fortune, and this will greatly change the present status Austria, in any event, is in desperate straits and cannot resist Germany any assistance.

Russia and England together will make short work of the remnants of her armies.

Among the visitors at the Gazette's "open house" on Saturday was the Rev. Father John Beccaria, D. D., chaplain of Mercy hospital, a native of Italy. In his impression of the printing plant, Father Beccaria wandered into the news room and was much taken up with the "war game" as played by the reporters with large maps of Europe and divers colored upstereotyping blocks to represent the belligerent armies. He was all attention at the explanation of keeping track of the daily movements of events in the war zone and perhaps contributed some information on Italy's present position in the war of nine nations which will be of interest to Gazette readers.

"Italy could not go to war as an ally of Austria and Germany without provoking a revolution," said Father Beccaria. "The socialists as well as the conservatives favored neutrality at first and had Turkey united with Germany and Austria, Italy would have joined England."

"Now, however, it is different. Italy as a unit is united and clamoring for war. Not only the northern provinces but the entire nation wants to enter the strife."

"You ask why?"
"I will tell you."
"Perhaps you have studied modern history. Yes, then you remember that in the war of 1859 Austria wrested two large and rich provinces from my country. These were Istria and Dalmatia. This has always been a thorn in the side of Italy. The people of these provinces are not Austrians. Ask them their nationality, what do they say? They are Italians despite the fact that they have been born under the flag of Franz Josef."

"In these provinces it is a crime to speak in the tongue of Italy. Our language cannot be taught in the schools and every means to turn the children against Italy is taken by the Austrian officials. Those most prominent in the movement to preserve the customs and traditions of our Italy are removed to distant parts of Austria, where their patriotism cannot be felt to any great extent."

But he said that the people hate the Austrians, and companies of soldiers mustered from here and sent against the Russians in the early battles of the present war stood up and were shot down rather than fight for the cause of Austria.

"It has only been through the strenuous efforts of Marquis Di San Giuliano, minister of foreign affairs, and the only member of the Italian cabinet who has insisted upon Italy living up to its agreement under the terms of the triple alliance, that has prevented Italy from declaring war."

"But the war party is now in power. This minister has been very sick and unable to attend to his usual duties or to hold the war party in check. He is one of the most powerful figures in Italian affairs, but now with illness the war party has again become powerful."

"Italian socialists are powerful. At first they protested against the partners of the alliance, Austria and Germany, entering war. This was true of the socialists in these respective countries. But now it is different. There is not one single party that does not want and wish for Italy's advent into the hostilities."

"Germany and Austria want them, too, but the populace of Italy does not want to join these countries. They favor the allies and the dismemberment of Austria to regain the province of Italy in the year 1859."

"And what causes this attitude, this seemingly going back on the triple alliance combination? You remember that the war Italy had with Turkey in 1911-12 was a disaster. Berlin and Vienna (Germany and Austria), said, 'You must make war yourself now that you have been the aggressor. We will give no help. The terms of our pact do not cover this. That we should help you in this case.'"

"So it is. Now Germany and Austria are calling to Italy. We give the same reply they gave us in our recent struggle with Turkey. 'We will not help you. But if Italy eventually enters the struggle it will be a holy war, far from similar to that which the German Emperor William says he is waging against Austria. Italy has again secured possession of them a feeling of unrest will always prevail in our country.'"

REBEKAHS CONVENE IN CITY SATURDAY

Convention Session of District No.
23, Will be Called to Order at One O'clock.

The Rebekahs of District No. 23 will hold a convention in this city on Saturday, October 10th. The meeting will be called to order at one o'clock. Mrs. Cora Dickinson of this city, president of the district will preside, while Mrs. Alice Mason will welcome the visiting delegates. Mrs. Mary Oakley of Madison will be president of the state organization is expected to be among the visitors.

A most excellent program has been prepared for the afternoon. In the evening the Rebekah staff will exemplify the beautiful work and teachings of the Rebekah degree.

A large delegation is expected from Fort Atkinson, Beloit, Monroe, Orono, Watrous, Milton, Delavan and Whitewater, the cities which comprise the district.

CENSUS DATA GIVES ROCK 13,233 HOMES

The United States census department at Washington has just issued a bulletin dealing with the ownership of Rock county homes. The important facts contained in the bulletin relative to this county are as follows:

There are 13,233 homes in Rock county. Of this number, 3,670 are farm homes. One thousand fifty-seven of the farm homes are owned by their occupants and are free of mortgage incumbrance. The mortgaged farm homes number 1,428. Renters occupy 1,189 farm homes in this county.

Out of total of 13,233 homes in the county, 9,563 are urban homes. There are 5,074 urban home owners in the county. Of this number, 1,529 are mortgaged. Of the urban owned homes, 3,443 are free of incumbrance. There are 4,288 rented urban homes in the county.

The census enumerators were unable to secure data pertaining to the ownership of a small percentage of both the rural and urban homes in this county.

TOWN LINE

Town Line, Oct. 5.—The Rev. and Mrs. C. Eddy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Eddy Saturday and Sunday, returning to their home at Rockton Sunday afternoon.

Helen Throne of Beloit visited Town Line friends from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. George Jones of Libertyville, Ill., was guest of her son Roy G. Jones and family for a few weeks. Dorothy Snyder was the week end guest of her aunt, Mrs. William Stanley at Beloit.

Miss Ada Machlin entertained Miss Stella Martin of Beloit Sunday. Mrs. L. J. McCrea and family were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. McCrea's sisters at Hebron, Ill.

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, October 5.—Mrs. Graler returned to her home at Plattville after a two weeks' visit with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Peterson and family were Sunday guests at the home of F. Niskorn of Beloit. A company of friends were entertained Sunday at the home of F. Kemmitt at Darlen. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gray, Edgar Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. A. Witte and daughter of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schmaling, Sr., and son John of Delavan spent Sunday with their niece and attended church.

Messrs. and Mesdames Schmidt and L. Lorke and family were Sunday guests at Emil Frank's at Lima. Mrs. Catherine Lorke is enjoying a visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. Keith of Algona, Iowa.

Miss Anna McGowan has returned home from an extended visit with relatives in Minnesota.

NORTH CENTER

North Center, Oct. 5.—Herbert Heusel spent Sunday at his home near Leyden.

Joseph Donnelly is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly.

Mrs. Henning of Footville is spending a few weeks at the home of Otto Kestien, Sr.

Herman Topp and Scott Berry will soon have the Footville telephone installed in their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nichols of Footville visited Sunday afternoon at L. Barrett's.

Mike Carroll and sister Elita were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly.

Elis Fish and James Conway and family enjoyed an auto ride Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barrett and daughter Mary attended services at the Catholic church in Footville Sunday.

Relatives and friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blensh and family over the death of their twin daughters born Sunday, October 4th.

Mrs. Mike Reilly and daughter Cecilia spent Sunday afternoon at Win. Ford's.

Miss Flole Huff spent a couple of days at the parental home.

Edward Churchill is doing cement work for Dan Conroy.

The lady members of the Larkin club met at the home of Mrs. Edward Farrington, Thursday afternoon and enjoyed a good time. It is needless to say all did justice to the fine lunch that was served at five o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Pratt of Stoughton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jess Gilbert.

CAINVILLE CENTER

Cainville Center, Oct. 6.—There will be a basket social Friday night, Oct. 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kestien.

The ladies members of the Footville Christian church.

Clyde Setzer very pleasantly entertained a company of young folks Saturday evening the occasion being his sister's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Andrew spent Saturday in Janesville.

Clarence Mapes of Evansville, spent Sunday with Magnolia friends and attended church services.

Mrs. Frank Clark spent Friday in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Renssien of Harvard arrived Saturday with their daughter and attended church services.

Will Davis and family and Miss Armilard of Center, attended church here Sunday morning.

Mr. Mulquin of Janesville, was a visitor at Leslie Townsend's Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan returned to their home at Leyden Monday.

COOKSVILLE

Cooksville, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Busby is gaining so he can work some, as it was the small bone below the knee that was broken. He was not confined to his bed.

Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Savage were business visitors in Stoughton last Thursday.

Mr. Anna Soverhill was a visitor at Mrs. Rice's last week and called on her many friends.

Harry Norby visited in Sun Prairie last Saturday and attended a party in evening.

Sanford Soverhill and three daughters motored from Janesville Sunday and took Mrs. Soverhill back with them.

Mrs. Farburg, who has been keeping house for Martin Berg, has moved in Chester Miller's house with her daughter, Clara.

Mrs. Savage and Mrs. Soverhill were Sunday visitors at the farm home of Joe Porter and family. After dinner a walk on the banks of Badfish, back to their homes.

Our teacher, Miss Fletcher, was from Friday night until Monday morning a visitor at her aunt's, in Evansville.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snyder and E. H. Brown and wife from Center, were callers at Joe Porter's last Sunday.

Jerry Armstrong and family have moved to their farm.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

MAGNOLIA

Magnolia, Oct. 5.—Miss Ella Harper spent a part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harper.

Clarence Mapes of Evansville attended services at the A. C. church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Acheson of Evansville were Sunday guests at Rob Acheson's and attended services at the M. E. church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coon and son Charles of Milton Junction, Wis., Miss Kate Clarke of New York city, William H. Crandall of Alfred, N. Y., and Will and Miss Alice Crandall of Michigan, North Dakota, called on their cousin Mrs. T. M. Harper Wednesday of last week.

Will Drefahl, George Fenn and Glen Clark filled their silos again Monday.

Some of the young people enjoyed a waltz with other good eats Saturday night.

Will Fineran is visiting relatives in Galesburg, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Andrew entertained relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Woodstock and family and Mrs. Al. Siles and daughter were Sunday guests of Mrs. Milbrand.

Mr. Riley of Chicago was a week end guest of Miss Mary O'Neil.

UTTER'S CORNERS

Utter's Corners, Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farnsworth and children returned from their visit at Geneva Thursday evening.

Rev. G. H. Lawrence, wife and son of Richmond, and Mrs. Will Dixon of Lima, visited at the Richard Peacock home Wednesday.

A. W. Lurvey and family and Willard Converse and family made a trip to Fort Atkinson Sunday afternoon in Mr. Lurvey's auto.

There will be a beach social at the John Lavanway home Friday night of this week under the auspices of the church stewards. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Jewel of Whitewater, is at the home of her son, Myron Poynter, for a few days.

Mrs. Ros of Lima Center visited at the O. B. and George H. Roe homes Wednesday.

S. D. Harrington of Beloit, was looking after his interests on his farm here last week.

There will be a social at the home of Mrs. Lurvey's auto.

B. Guernsey and family drove to Whitewater Lake Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Schorn and family and Will Teetsborn and family motored to Geneva Sunday and visited at the T. Tilted home.

B. Guernsey has leased the Marquette farm of Mr. Miller for a term of years and will move there in the near future.

Milton Junction, Oct. 6.—The Junior class of the local high school enjoyed a picnic supper and spent Saturday evening at Charley Bluff.

Howard Wentworth of Edgerton,

CLINTON

Clinton, Oct. 5.—E. E. Jones and wife of Beloit, motored to Clinton Friday and called on friends.

Mrs. Myrtle Staub, nee Fredendall, of Milwaukee, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. E. S. Duxstad, Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Mrs. E. Kizer and Mrs. R. C. Stewart, motored to Beloit Friday in the Duxstad car on a pleasure trip.

Dwight Hamilton, wife and son and a lady friend of Peccatonica were here Friday, being on their way via auto to Delavan lake.

Miss Marguerite Hocker of Janesville visited her brother and family here last week.

O. H. Florida of Janesville was here Saturday looking after his interests.

Mrs. W. W. Glover left today for Florida to spend the winter. Florida will have to keep awake nights to beat Wisconsin weather so far this year.

Mrs. Nettie Stearns has broken up housekeeping and will live with her sister, Mrs. Flora Smith, this winter.

W. B. Brown went to Dixon, Ill., Saturday to get his wife and daughter to Beloit. They will be visiting Mrs. Brown's sister the past four weeks.

Mrs. Hannah Stoney and Mrs. Flora Smith will spend this week at Delavan lake at the Stoney cottage on the assembly grounds.

Mr. O. Woodward and Mrs. D. M. Phillips are spending the winter in Florida.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Triggs Friday afternoon and had an interesting meeting.

W. P. Woolston has returned from America, Tex., and is feeling fine.

Clarence, Bandall of Darlen was here Saturday.

Four hundred people were served at the Bergen church supper Thursday night.

Ed Hughes of Madison joined his wife and children here Saturday, who have been visiting Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Simmons.

Mrs. Andrew Tiltotson and Mrs. A. S. Woolston were in Rockford Saturday.

Miss Frances E. Hall was in Beloit Saturday.

R. B. Simmons went to Delavan Saturday to join his wife and son, who spent last week visiting Mrs. Simmons' sister, Mrs. Earl Horton, and husband. Mr. and Mrs. Horton brought them home last night in their touring car.

Best and wife motored to Rockford and returned Sunday and enjoyed a picnic dinner enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes motored to Beloit Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charlotte Benn and daughter, Miss Charlotte, expect to spend three or four months in New Orleans, La., this winter with Mrs. Burnett's daughter. They expect to leave about the holidays.

MRS. WILLIAM DUTHIE DIED AT AGE OF 79

Avalon, Oct. 5.—Mary Robertson was born in Sterlingshire, Scotland, September 28, 1835, and came to America about 1850. In 1858 she was united in marriage to William Duthie, who preceded her to the world beyond in May of this year. There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Duthie six children, all of whom survive except one daughter, Elizabeth, who passed away about ten years ago. Along with her own family Mrs. Duthie gave a mother's love and protection to two others, William Duthie and McGee of Troy, Idaho, and Mrs. Alice Robertson Hadden of Chili, Wis., who are also left to mourn her loss. Mr. and Mrs. Duthie's married life was spent on a farm in Johnston, from which place they moved to the farm now owned by their son Edward, east of this village. Fourteen years ago they retired from farm life, moving to Janesville, where they lived until residence there they moved to Clinton, where they lived until Feb. 12, 1912, when on account of failing health of Mrs. Duthie they removed to Avalon to reside with their daughter, Mrs. C. S. Boynton, where Mrs. Duthie passed away Friday afternoon, Sept. 25. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home, and the remains were laid at rest in the cemetery at Johnston. Center. The bearers were James, William and Robert Lamb, John, James and Peter McFarlane.

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, Oct. 6.—The Junior class of the local high school enjoyed a picnic supper and spent Saturday evening at Charley Bluff.

Howard Wentworth of Edgerton,

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR, ITCHY SCALP, END THIS AT ONCE—25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair! Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots become loosened and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair, get it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Miss Ella Harper spent part of the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harper.

Lima, Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. McMillin entertained friends over Sunday.

Miss Herrington, who is enroute from Richmond Center to her home in Ohio, spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Alice Gould.

Mr. Reese and family drove to Turtle Lake Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. R. is home from a two weeks' stay in Milton.

Della Bowers was home from Madison Saturday.

William Truman and wife returned Saturday from their northern trip.

At the Junction Sunday to spend the day with Bert Collins and wife.

Mrs. Gould and daughter Orna spent Wednesday in Janesville and Friday in Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Holbrook were Janesville visitors Thursday.

The Circle expects to spend Wednesday with Mrs. Hackbart, near St. Person, on Thursday.

The Aid is having improvements made at the M. E. church.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Oct. 5.—Miss Sue Dow spent Saturday at her home in Whitewater.

Misses Livingston and Kingdon were visitors in Janesville Saturday.

Mrs. Martin Bragger and son Clarence were Orfordville visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Pengra left Saturday for a trip to Lubbock, Texas, where they will spend some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Briggs.

Mesdames Fred Stephens and Maud Schmidt went to Whitewater Saturday to attend the funeral of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Thor Johnson were the guests of Orfordville friends Saturday.

Miss Bonnie Bartlett of Monroe was the guest of Miss Faye Brobst on Saturday.

Mrs. John Moar visited Dr

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS in this classified column is one cent per word per insertion. Nothing less than 10 words accepted. Cash discount 25 per cent if paid at time order is given. Charge accounts 1 cent per word.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

WHEN YOU THINK OF Insurance, think of C. P. Beers, 1-23-11.
IF IT IS GOOD HARDWARE, Mc Namara has it.
HAZARDS HONED—26c. Premo Bros. 27-11.

QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S 27-11.

FOR GOOD GOODS Talk to Lowell, 1-16-30-11.

HOLLAND FURNACES make warm friends. F. F. Van Coevern, Both phones. 1-16-11.

FOR SALE—Second hand 30 h. p. Al. engine, current motor, first class. Cheap for quick sale. R. C. Johnson, Electrical Contractor, 422 Lincoln St., Both phones. 1-8-6-11.

C. W. WISCH'S Hayes Block Barber Shop is the place. Velvety shaves. Expert hair cuts. 4 chairs. Quick service. 1-10-2-11.

Make Your House Cleaning easy by using the Auto Vacuum Cleaner. 1-10-2-11.

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER in all goods. Visiting dealer to order. Mrs. J. W. Woodstock, 1-12-11-11.

CARPENTRY, MASONRY, PAINTING—Nothing but expert workmen. My price will save you money. Get my figures on your work. Frank H. Porter, new phone 1028 White. 1-10-2-11.

THE BUSINESS HOUSES advertise in this column value your patronage enough to spend money going after it.

SITUATION WANTED, Female.

A GIRL OR WOMAN who advertises here deserves more pay on account of her energy and determination.

WIDOW WITH CHILD AGED 12, wishes position as housekeeper for elderly widower or bachelor. No objection to one live child. Reasonable wages, no washing, country preferred. Mrs. Rose Hilde, Woodstock, Ill., R. F. D. 5. 6-10-6-11.

WANTED—Place on the west side where elderly lady can assist in housework. Inquire Old phone 757. 3-10-5-11.

WANTED—Position as housekeeper with privilege of keeping child with me. Mrs. Etta Lumma, Milton Junction. 3-10-5-11.

SITUATION WANTED, MALE

MR. EMPLOYER, if this column does not describe a man who will fill your requirements, your ad on this page will bring him to you.

WANTED—Work in town or on farm by an experienced man. Rock County phone 531 Red. 2-10-6-11.

WANTED—Steady work on farm by experienced hand. 109 No. Main street. 605 Black. 2-10-2-11.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

IF THERE ARE NO POSITIONS open here for you try advertising for a position yourself. Give the Gazette for an address if you like.

WANTED—Waitresses at the Savoy 4-10-3-11.

WANTED—Girl for general house work. Mrs. George King, 108 St. Lawrence Ave. 4-10-3-11.

WANTED—Competent girl for housework. Mrs. Dan Higgins, La Vista Apartments. 4-10-5-11.

WANTED—An experienced girl for general house work. Mrs. Richard Valentine, 220 South Second street. 4-9-2-11.

WANTED—Immediately cook and second girl. Hotel help. Mrs. J. E. Carthy, both phones. 4-9-2-11.

MALE HELP WANTED

POSITIONS ARE OPEN to men of education who want something to do. Advise under another heading.

WANTED—Men to work at once in tanning factory. P. Hohenadel Jr. Co. 5-10-6-11.

WANTED—At once, for general farm work, experienced, strictly single, young man. Good wages to right man. Write or phone Harry A. Turner, R. F. D. Sullivan, Jefferson Co., Wis. 5-10-6-11.

WANTED—Man for general farm work. Inquire W. H. Huginin, R. C. phone 5515 U. 5-10-3-11.

AGENTS WANTED

WE STRIVE to keep from this page all unreliable firms. Let us know if you answer a fake. We will prosecute.

REAL ESTATE WANTED

DON'T WAIT for someone to advertise under this heading. Place your ad in the for sale column.

WANTED—To hear from owner of good farm for sale. Send cash price and description. D. F. Bush, Minneapolis, Minn. 3-4-9-2-11.

HOUSES WANTED

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THIS space will save house owners from being duped by unscrupulous buyers. You can rent it quicker by advertising.

WANTED TO RENT—5 or 6 room modern house, close in. Old phone 129-13-11.

WANTED LOANS

MONEY GROWS when it is worked. A little spent on this page will bring you plenty of opportunities to work.

WANTED BOARD & ROOMS

AT A PRICE agreeable to both parties anything you have to dispose of may be quickly sold somewhere on this page.

WANTED TO BUY—2 six-foot sofa and one pair top dress. Box 255, Union, Wis. 6-10-3-11.

PRACTICAL NURSES

JOSEPHINE BROWN, PRACTICAL NURSE, Milton Junction, Wis., New phone. 62-10-6-11.

FOR WOMEN

WANTED—Newly married couples to take board and room. 42-9-2-11.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT

THE ROOMS YOU WANT may not be here but the owners might answer for ad under another classification.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms. 333 Cherry street. 3-10-6-11.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms; modern. 329 N. Jackson St. Blue 724. 6-11-11.

FOR RENT—Two rooms, with gas stove and city water. New phone. 734 White. 8-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished room, heat and bath, 13 So. Jackson St. Up stairs. 8-10-3-11.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT

UNDER THIS HEADING an unprofitable bare room or rooms may be made into a home for you and you become the gainer.

BOARD AND ROOM TO RENT

OFTEN TIMES when there are no advertisements here you can find a good home place by advertising under "Wanted, board and rooms."

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS.

FOR RENT—2 furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 609 4th. 63-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—4 unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. Inquire 116 N. Jackson. 63-10-1-11.

FLATS FOR RENT

A GOOD WARM FLAT will be nice this winter. If you do not see any thing to suit you here advertise for it under "flats wanted."

FOR RENT—Modern steam heated flat, 32 South Main St. M. P. Richardson, Lovejoy Block. 11-9-12-11.

FOR RENT—Upper four-room flat, unfurnished. New phone 706 Blue; 703 Yuba St. 45-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—Six-room flat, modern, ready now. Walter Helms, R. C. phone Blue 276. 45-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—Seven room flat F. C. Burpee. 45-9-19-11.

FOR RENT—5-room flat, steam heat, centrally located, Carter & Morse. 45-8-24-11.

HOUSES FOR RENT

IT'S A GOOD CITY where few houses are for rent. There will be houses for rent later which you can get an option on by advertising for it.

FOR RENT—House, $18 per month. E. H. Peterson, Auctioneer, Janesville, Wis. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Small cottage, 519 S. Main street. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Modern six room house, no furnace. 635 South Jackson. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Six room house on Reger avenue; electric light, well and cisterns, barn and chicken yard. Phone 1071 Red. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Seven room house. 221 S. Franklin St. Phone 907 Blue. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Seven room house, 303 E. Milwaukee St. R. C. phone 313 Red; old phone 1145. 11-10-5-11.

FOR RENT—Part of lower floor, 410 Terrace St. 11-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—Lower part of house, 229 N. Franklin St. Inquire 408 N. Jackson. 11-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—Lower half of dwelling in 3rd ward. Pine location. H. J. Cunningham agency. 11-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—8-room modern house, 118 S. High. H. J. Cunningham agency. 11-10-3-11.

FOR RENT—Six room house at 223 Park St. Phone or call Dr. E. E. Loomis' residence. 11-9-13-11.

FARMS TO LET

BACK TO THE FARM may be the right solution. If you don't find a farm here advertise for it.

DANCING INSTRUCTIONS

INSTRUCTION in all the latest dances. Mrs. A. J. Pegelow, 15 Jackson street. Both phones. 61-10-6-11-10-11.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

OPPORTUNITY comes only to hustlers. If you are busy, a hustler want ad will hustle for you by proxy.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

REAL BARGAINS in musical instruments are daily advertised.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES

ARE YOU INTERESTED in buying or selling a horse or carriage? Place your advertisement here and your desires will be accomplished.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Phaeton. Apply 1425 Ruger avenue. 26-10-3-11.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS FOR SALE

ODD PIECES of furniture can be bought reasonably if you watch this space regularly.

FOR SALE—Kitchen range in first class condition. Will sell cheap. 223 Terrace street, Old phone 1814. 16-10-6-11.

FOR SALE—Hard coal burner and other household articles. 21 N. Pearl. Mrs. W. S. Sutton. 16-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—A $25 gas range, good as new. $15 for quick sale. Inquire 56-00. Inquire 111-113 North Main street. 6-10-6-11.

FOR SALE—Clean strong soap bar, rel with head, 75 cents at Gazette. 13-10-6-11.

FOR SALE, MISCELLANEOUS

PEOPLE ADVERTISING HERE soon find that advertising pays. These same people would read your ad under "Wanted."

FOR SALE—One organ, one base burner, one 20-inch 14 foot engine lathe. 624 North Hickory street. 13-10-6-11.

FOR ONIONS and Winter Vegetables call on W. O. Wilcox, both phones. 13-10-3-11.

FOR SALE AT BIG BARGAIN—Hot water boiler for heating residence in good condition. Dr. James Mills. Telephone Rock Co. 4. Bell 1120. 13-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—Building 6 ft. by 30 ft. windows on south side. May be used for chicken or store house. Mrs. Fred Sutherland, 331 Washington St. 35-10-3-11.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Good chicken baby cap. Inquire 14 South Frank. 16-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—Good strong iron barrels at 50c each. Gazette. 13-7-30-11.

FOR SALE—Pine 34 inch double leather belt, about 25 feet long, one-half price. Gazette. 13-7-28-11.

PAPER TOWELS AND FIXTURES—Sanitary and economical for schools and public buildings, factories, work rooms, etc., indispensable for the kitchen, 25c per roll. 39 cases of 50 rolls. Gazette. Printing Dept., Phone 77-4 rings Bell, 27 Rock Co. 13-12-11.

THE NEW GAZETTE PARCELS giving all units and the zones from our Unit No. 2263, the ready for rect map published here are ready for back subscriptions and paying for one year in advance for the Daily Gazette, the map will be sent free. Gazette is regularly sold for 11c. Gazette or by mail at 25 cents. 2-13-11.

FOR SALE—Old newspapers, 5 cents a bundle. Gazette Office. 13-6-14-11.

FOR SALE—Complete map of Rock County, showing all roads, school houses, churches, towns, villages, cities, railroads, farms with number of acres and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size, price 25c or free with a year's advance subscription to the Daily Gazette.

FOR SALE—Engraved cards, wedding invitations and announcements engraved and embossed. Stationery produced in the very latest and newest letter designs. We have connections with several engraving houses which give up very prompt service. Call phone Rock Co. 27. Bell 77-4 for Printing Department of the Gazette.

BICYCLE SUPPLIES—Premo Brothers. 13-12-29-11.

FOR SALE—At St. Joseph's convent, a new set of Rosary Beads, Gold Chains, Medallions, Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices. 13-12-9-11.

BOWLING AND BILLIARDS

FOR SALE—New and second-hand carom and pocket billiard tables, bowling alleys and accessories, bar fixtures of all kinds. Easy payments. "THE TRUST THE PEOPLE." The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., 277-279 West Water street, Milwaukee. 13-7-18-11.

AUTOMOBILES

IF YOU DON'T FIND WHAT YOU WANT here, advertise for it.

OXY-ACETYLENE Welding welds any broken automobile part on short notice. Janesville Machine Co., 17-19 So. Main street. 12-5-12-11.

MOTORCYCLES

SECOND HAND MOTORCYCLES are often as good as new for your purpose. Keep an eye on these ads and buy one cheap.

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY MAY BE HAD on good security if you can interest those who have it. Let them know through these columns what your needs are. Give this office as your address if you prefer.

MONEY TO LOAN. Arthur M. Fisher. 39-10-2-11.

FINANCIAL PROPOSITIONS must first pass the Gazette's investigation as to merit, before the ad appears.

HARDWARE

HARDWARE can be sold at a profit and bought at a saving under this heading.

FOR SALE—Repairs for stoves, ranges and furnaces of all makes. Talk to Lowell. 14-10-6-11.

BOATS AND ACCESSORIES

HAVE YOU A BOAT for sale or do you want one. Gazette ads bring quick response.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Launch. Call after 6 p. m. old phone 1399. 15-10-3-11.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE YOUR PROPERTY for one that will better suit you. This can be done with an ad under this classification.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—A good residence property close to school. Will consider a trade up to $1000. What have you to exchange? Address A. E. Harte, Evansville, Wis. 31-10-8-11.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

MANY A BARGAIN in REAL ESTATE can be picked up by daily reading these ads. If in a hurry advertise under "Real estate wanted."

FOR SALE—200 acre farm in town of Rock, three and one-half miles west of Janesville. 12-room house, two large barns, and other outbuildings, artesian well. Inquire Dooley & Kemmerer or E. Zeman, owner. 33-10-6-11.

RAILROAD LANDS Selling Rapidly. $5,000 earned by Ohio man in a short time. Another made $3,500, others are making good. Good farming land offered ever made. $15 per acre, five years to pay. Good co-operative selling plan. Comprehensive literature and leads furnished. Big opening for live, aggressive sales representatives. Give references. Sales room for one man in your section. Address E. A. Cummings & Co., (established 1889) Chicago. 33-10-6-11.

FOR SALE—Six-room bungalow; modern and good location. Phone 107 Red. 33-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—Strictly modern seven room house one block from depot. Address "House," Gazette. 33-10-5-11.

FOR SALE—Choice 100 acre Rock county farm. Will take a small place in city in exchange. 33-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—40 acres good land with good buildings. Shed room for 15 acres of tobacco; one mile east of Janesville. J. E. Mackin, Rte. 1. 33-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—Six room house, small barn and chicken house. Arthur M. Fisher. 33-10-3-11.

FOR SALE—Real estate. H. H. Blanchard. 33-10-2-11.

FOR SALE—130 acre farm. Good buildings and silo. Inquire of James A. Drummond. 33-10-1-11.

FARM FOR SALE—I have a splendid farm for sale at a bargain. John Cunningham, 25 W. Milw St. Janesville. 33-8-12-11.

LIVESTOCK

FOR SALE—Six high grade Guernseys and three 2-year-olds. John Wright, between Milton and Milton Junction, first house east of gas house. 21-10-5-11.

FOR SALE—One Guernsey bull bred 15-16, coming two years old, gentle. Fred O'Brien, Rte. 3, old phone Black 5126. 21-10-2-11.

POULTRY AND HOUSEHOLD PETS

SOMEBODY WANTS what you have or has just what you want—advertise.

WANTED—Full grown bull dog or "Trot" enough 1908 "Pop" phone 1003. 22-10-5-11.

FARMERS' ATTENTION

FARMERS SAVE MONEY by reading these offerings daily.

FOR SALE—Four 6-roll McCormick improved shredders; one 15 horse-power Nichols & Shepard power Autman & Taylor steam engine; one 20 horse-power Avery steam engine; one 10 horse-power gas engine; one 8 horse-power gas engine. All in first-class condition. Nitscher Implement Co. 60-9-15-11.

CALL AND SEE the Hoover Potato Digger and Picker. Nitscher Implement Co. 60-9-29-11.

BICYCLES

BICYCLING is a healthful pastime. These ads will tell you where to buy. HIGH GRADE BICYCLES. C. H. Cox. 46-12-11.

AUCTION DIRECTORY.

Consult this directory before setting your date so as not to conflict with others. Send for free booklet, "Auction Sales and How to Prepare For Them."

Oct. 7—Hiram Cooper, administrator for E. E. Larsen, Clinton. Auctioneer W. T. Dooley.

October 14—O. M. Peterby, Prop., Shopiere, Auctioneer, W. T. Dooley.

Oct. 15—Frank Hutchins, Prop., Milton. Auctioneer W. T. Dooley.

PREMO BROTHERS for Bicycles. 45-11-29-11.

LOST AND FOUND

VALUABLE articles are restored to their owners by means of these little Gazette ads.

LOST—Vanity purse in Woodworth store. Reward if left at this office. 25-10-5-11.

LOST—Large spotted fox hound. Please notify Geo. W. Yahn, Janesville, Wis. 25-10-3-11.

STRAYED

RETURN whatever you find to this office and we will locate the owner. Remember the Golden Rule.

AUCTIONS

SEND FOR FREE BOOKLET—Entitled "Auction Sales and How to Prepare for Them," containing a lot of useful information on getting up an auction and the arrangement of details. A post card will bring it. Address The Janesville Gazette. 54-9-12-11.

AUCTIONEERS

JOHN RYAN, Auctioneer, Telephone 33012, Footville, Wis.

THOS. M. RAFTER, General Auctioneer. Have pleased others, can please you. Bell phone 1804, Janesville.

MISCELLANEOUS

WHEN YOU DON'T

TEN CENTS DECLINE IN PRICE OF HOGS

Today's Market Is Slow and Weak
With No Indications of Recovery.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, Oct. 6.—There was no sign of recovery from the depression of Monday, which was experienced in the hog trade. Prices today were ten cents lower and demand continued indifferent. Sheep trade was also slow with a heavy run. Cattle held to the high levels of the past weeks. Following are quotations:

Cattle—Receipts 7,000; market easy; heavy 6.50@11.00; Texas steers 6.10@6.60; stockers and feeders 5.25@6.00; cows and heifers 3.40@9.00; calves 1.50@11.25.

Hogs—Receipts 19,000; market weak, 10¢ under yesterday's average; light 7.75@8.50; mixed 7.55@8.55; heavy 7.20@8.50; rough 7.30@7.45; pigs 4.75@8.25; bulk of sales 7.60@8.25.

Sheep—Receipts 40,000; market slow; native 4.00@5.50; yearlings 5.40@7.25; lambs, native 6.00@7.70.

Butter—Unchanged, 7.22 cases. Eggs—Unchanged, receipts 75 cases; Mich. Ws., red 42@48, white 43@53; Minn.-Dak. Ohio 45@52.

Poultry—Alive: Higher; fowls 14; springs 14.

Wheat—Dec. Opening 1.05 1/2; high 1.05 3/4; low 1.05 1/4; closing 1.05 1/2. May: Opening 1.15 1/2; high 1.16; low 1.15 1/4; closing 1.14 1/2.

Corn—Dec. Opening 67 1/2; high 67 3/4; low 67 1/4; closing 67 1/2. May: Opening 70; high 70 3/4; low 69 3/4; closing 69 1/2.

Oats—Dec. Opening 48 1/2; high 48 3/4; low 48 1/4; closing 48 1/2. May: Opening 51 1/2; high 51 3/4; low 50 3/4; closing 51 1/2.

Rye—No. 2, 31 1/2@32. Barley—No. 2, 31 1/2@32.

Cash Market. Wheat—No. 2, red 1.05 1/2@1.07 1/4; hard 1.05 1/2@1.07 1/4.

Corn—No. 2, yellow 73 1/2@73 3/4; No. 2, white 73 1/2@73 3/4.

Oats—No. 2, white 45 1/2@46 1/4; standard 45 1/2@46 1/4.

Timothy—$5.00@5.00. Clover—$11.00@11.00.

Lard—$9.50. Ribs—$10.50@11.25.

MONDAY'S MARKET. Chicago, Oct. 6.—Several droves of packing hogs cost below the $3 mark yesterday, the lowest day since October 4. Then the general average at $3 was the start of a decline.

Packers were extremely bearish and had no trouble in cutting the price range about 15¢ compared with Saturday's high mark. A declining provision market added to the depression.

A record price of $10.30 was paid for 61 head of 799-lb. Angus yearling hogs, and 976-lb. steers and heifers mixed sold at $10.30, also a record considering weight.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $8.35, against $8.25 Saturday, $8.40 a week ago, $8.30 a month ago, $8.25 a year ago, $8.05 two years ago, and $6.57 three years ago.

Hogs Range Is Wide. Few hogs sold above $8.50, and yet a lead of 242-lb. butchers reached $8.50 while 350-lb. packers were down to $7.40. Price range was widest of season. Packing droves, 264@284 lbs. cost $7.90@8.04; 340 lbs. $7.65 and 240@260 lbs. $8.12@8.20. Trade dragged a day, but only 2,000 were curried over. Quality fair. Quotations follow:

Bulk of sales $7.70@8.40. Heavy butchers and shipping 8.10@8.60.

Light butchers, 190@230 5.50@8.55. Light bacon, 145@190 lbs. 8.25@8.80. Heavy packing 260@400 lbs. 7.55@7.80.

Mixed packing, 200@250 lbs. 7.70@7.90. Rough, heavy packing 7.40@7.55. Poor to best pigs, 60@135 lbs. 4.75@5.40.

Light Cattle Sell Well. Prime light yearling cattle sold unevenly higher than the 70s and 75s were generally steady. Heaves averaging 1,650 lbs. brought $11, with bulk of beef steers at $8.80@10.40. Some 1,400 lb. Montana rangers went at $8.

Quotations follow: Choice to fancy steers $9.50@11.00. Poor to good steers 6.75@9.40. Yearling steers, fair to fancy 7.75@11.00.

Fat cows and heifers 3.50@5.10. Canning cows and heifers 3.50@5.10. Native bulls and stags 5.00@8.00. Feeding cattle 6.00@11.00.

Lbs. 5.30@5.30. 'Poor to good' 5.30@5.30. Feeding lambs plentiful. Feeding lambs in large supply and mostly 10¢ lower. Some fat lambs and sheep sold steady, but the general market was top-heavy. Bulk of killing lambs 10¢ lower. Feeder lambs mostly $6.00@7.00. Quotations follow:

Lambs, fair to fancy $6.75@7.75. Lambs, culls and feeders 5.00@7.10. Yearlings, poor to best 5.25@6.20. Weaners, poor to best 2.75@4.55. Bucks, inferior to choice 2.75@4.55. Bucks, common to choice 3.25@4.00.

WHEAT-NINE CENTS BID ON ELGIN BUTTER MARKET. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Elgin, Oct. 5.—Twenty-nine cents was bid for butter on the market here today, but there were no sales.

JANESVILLE RETAIL MARKET. Straw, Corn, Oats: Straw, $6.00@7.00; baled hay, $10.00@12.00; loose, small demand, new oats, 40¢@45¢; barley, $1.00@1.10 per 100 lbs.; ear corn, 8¢.

Poultry: Dressed hens, 14¢; dressed young springers, 15¢; geese, live, 11¢; dressed, 14¢; turkeys, dressed, 20¢; alive, 10¢@12¢; ducks, 11¢@12¢.

Cows—$7.00@8.00. Steers—$6.00@7.00. Bulls—$6.00@7.00. Sheep—$5.00@6.00. Lambs—$5.00@6.00.

Hogs—$8.00@8.25, heavy; choice light $8.50@8.75. Pigs—$4.00@5.00.

Vegetables—Potatoes, new, bu. 75¢; new cabbage, 5¢ head; carrots, 2¢ lb.; beets, 5¢ bunch; Spanish onions, 8¢; peppers, best quality, 2¢; green green peppers, 2¢ dozen; French muskmelons, 5¢@10¢; sweet potatoes, 4¢@5¢; cauliflower, 15¢; home-grown watermelon, 5¢; sweet seedless grapes, 20¢ lb.; Malaga grapes 10¢ lb.

Butter—Dairy, 32¢; creamery, 34¢. Eggs—Fresh, per doz, 25¢. Feed: (Tall) 10¢; meal, $1.50 per 100 lbs.; bran, $1.30; standard middlings, $1.35; flour middlings, $1.40@1.50.

Pure Lard: 15¢@16¢ lb.; lard compound, 15¢ lb.

CONVERTS HER CASTLE INTO HOSPITAL

Princess Karadja.

Evansville News

CAST ARE READY FOR CLEVER PLAY TONIGHT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Evansville, Oct. 6.—Rehearsals have been progressing nicely for the Eastern Star Play "Billy's Bungalow" to be given at Magee's Opera House tonight, (Tuesday).

The cast have their parts well in hand. The chorus is unusually good. In fact, nothing has been left undone to make this one of the best entertainments ever given in this city.

Nifty songs, nobby costumes and a classy stage setting are a few of the strong points. No better play for amateurs has ever been written and this cast surely can put it over.

Homecoming. All the old boarders of Mrs. Hayward and their wives enjoyed a homecoming Sunday, the affair being in honor of Mark Hull, whose marriage to Miss Alice Keeley has been announced. Twenty-six in all were present at one of "Mother's" fine dinners to which all did justice. Two of the boarders were unable to be present, Rev. Ralph and Owen Jones. Pictures were taken and all enjoyed a pleasant social afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hubbard entertained Sunday. Clayton Hubbard and John McKenna of Chicago, Clarence Hubbard of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Smith and baby, Mrs. E. L. Hubbard of Brooklyn, Osmond Hubbard and family of Evansville, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fellows and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fellows and baby are on a two weeks' visit at the Edward H. Morrison home at Chetek, where they went via auto.

Miss Gladys Graves of Beloit is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Robert Spencer.

Mrs. P. P. Pullen is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ella Bingham at Ames, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blunt and Mrs. Harbender motored to Madison Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McMullen of Madison were week end guests here. Miss Hallie Weaver, who is clerking at Marshall Field's in Chicago, came the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt Weaver.

Miss Bernice Lutz spent Saturday and Sunday at her parental home in Magnolia.

Miss Z. Howard of Madison spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howard.

Mrs. N. Libby is recovering from the effects of her recent operation. Claude Snashall and Edgar Sperry spent Sunday at Lake Kegonsa, where they went to close the Snashall cottage for the winter.

A. E. Durner and family and Erwin Shaw and family spent Sunday at South Madison at the Rube Lewis home.

Mrs. Leo Bevier of Beloit is visiting Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Retta Jones.

Former Resident Ill. Mrs. Edward Hyne has received word from Mrs. Frank Young, stating that William Young of Dear Park, Wash., is very ill. No hopes for his recovery are entertained. Mr. Young is very well known here, having been a resident and furniture dealer in this place for many years. He left Evansville about ten years ago.

James Buxton and family are moving into the Fay house on Third street.

Frank Broughton of Sun Prairie was a week end visitor here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Levzow are moving in with Bert Morgan and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Potter of Sun Prairie and Mrs. Kate Hanover of Detroit, Mich., visited local friends Sunday.

Edgar Smith and wife of Madison spent Sunday with Evansville friends.

Ben Buxton and family are moving into the east side of the Russell house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. George Levzow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Van Wormer and daughter Hazel and Miss Anna Van Wormer motored to Madison Sunday.

Andrew Munson and son Bernard of Blanchardville spent Sunday with local friends.

Miss Nellie Torpey, Floyd Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ten Eyck motored to Janesville Sunday.

Harry Benny and family of Beloit were week end guests here.

Mrs. Edward Lee and daughter Helen of Brookhead were guests at the Joe Bishop home Sunday.

Mrs. F. Mayford and family motored to Beloit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zwilsky and son Marvin of Brooklyn were shoppers here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner and children of Brooklyn spent Saturday here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mayer of Magnolia were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Buss.

Miss Clara Kuehl and Roy Stover spent Sunday in Belleville the guests of Carl Minch and family.

John Deveraux and son went to Madison last week bringing home their new car.

Miss Edith Cushman has resigned her position with the local telephone exchange and will quit work October 21. Miss Cushman has been in the present position for the past three years and will be missed by the patrons.

Louie Abts of Beloit was a visitor here Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Lee spent Saturday in Janesville.

Mrs. Walter Tuller returned to her home in Milwaukee Sunday after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Baker accompanied her as far as Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barnard spent Sunday in Madison.

Mrs. P. Holmes left Saturday for Stoughton where she opened up a new laundry yesterday.

Blaine Davis, Miss Maud Hymers and Mr. and Mrs. T. Moran motored to Janesville Sunday.

Orfordville, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Maria Howe, who for the past three or four weeks has been visiting at the home of her son at Menomonie, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Jessie Kelley, who is one of the teachers in Valley school at Evansville, visited on Sunday at the home of her mother.

Mrs. A. O. Keesey is numbered among those who are sick.

A. J. Smiley, who has been making his home with his sister, Mrs. Bert Beck, has gone to Janesville and will spend some time there with his brother, F. P. Smiley.

Dr. T. W. Nuzum of Janesville was in the village for the time on Monday on professional business.

Miss Elsie Dann of Evansville is spending the week in the village, the guest of friends.

J. V. Chrysler of Brookhead was one of those from out of town who attended the banquet given by the local Odd Fellows' lodge on Saturday evening.

E. Skinner and P. T. Moore of Brookhead transacted business in the village Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Rime have moved into their new building, just outside of the village limits, in the town of Plymouth.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows gave their regular quarterly banquet on Saturday evening. An invitation had been extended to the Rebekahs to attend, which was accepted. There was a large attendance and a most entertaining time is reported.

George W. Leuk who has been at Mercy hospital since his serious accident which occurred several weeks ago, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return to his home in the town of Spring Valley. His many friends are extending congratulations and hoping for his entire recovery speedily.

Mrs. Ole Bonouet went to Janesville Monday afternoon, where she will enter Mercy hospital for treatment.

Dr. Mitchell of Brookhead came to Orfordville on Monday to look after some of Dr. Forbuck's patients.

Miss Pratt of Rockford is visiting friends in Orfordville. She is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dunn.

SHRINKING BUSINESS AND RISING FIGURES

Commercial Failures Reach High Mark in Short Period of Time Says Jones.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—The actual figures showing what the country has suffered under Democratic rule form a terrible indictment for that party. Comparing conditions in 1913, the last year of Republican control, when the country was prosperous, and in 1914, when there is no one who has not felt the pinch of shrinking business and rising figures.

In the first six months of 1912, the commercial failures in the United States amounted to $108,012,223, and for the corresponding part of this year to $185,009,773, an increase of $76,997,550, or 71 per cent.

For the same six months periods the banking failures in 1912 55 in number and in amount $17,833,235, and in 1914 93 in number and in amount $28,621,812, an increase of 88 in number and 60 per cent in amount.

The gross railroad earnings for the first five months of 1912 were $1,087,021,734 and for the same months of 1914, $997,558,013, a decrease of almost $90,000,000 or 8 per cent.

The number of idle freight cars on July 1, 1912, was 70,731, and on the same day this year, 220,875, an increase of 150,144, or 212 per cent.

The value of our imports for the first nine months of the operation of the recent Underwood tariff law were $1,446,127,491 and under the former Republican tariff for the corresponding months of 1911 and 1912, $1,283,259, an increase in imports under the Democratic tariff of $162,868,232, or about 12 per cent.

In 1912 there was practically no idle labor in the country and today the number of idle workers is estimated conservatively at a million. On July 1, 1912, the balance in the general fund of the United States treasury was $167,152,478.39, and on the same date this year, $115,535,011.14, a decrease of $51,617,467.25, or 31 per cent.

The amount of gold shipped out of this country in the first six months of 1912 was $27,000,000, and in the corresponding months of this year, before there had been any expectation whatever of a European war, the gold shipments amounted to $65,000,000, an increase of $38,000,000, or 140 per cent.

Miss Nellie Torpey, Floyd Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ten Eyck motored to Janesville Sunday.

Harry Benny and family of Beloit were week end guests here.

Mrs. Edward Lee and daughter Helen of Brookhead were guests at the Joe Bishop home Sunday.

Mrs. F. Mayford and family motored to Beloit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zwilsky and son Marvin of Brooklyn were shoppers here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner and children of Brooklyn spent Saturday here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mayer of Magnolia were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Buss.

Miss Clara Kuehl and Roy Stover spent Sunday in Belleville the guests of Carl Minch and family.

John Deveraux and son went to Madison last week bringing home their new car.

Miss Edith Cushman has resigned her position with the local telephone exchange and will quit work October 21. Miss Cushman has been in the present position for the past three years and will be missed by the patrons.

Louie Abts of Beloit was a visitor here Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Lee spent Saturday in Janesville.

Mrs. Walter Tuller returned to her home in Milwaukee Sunday after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Baker accompanied her as far as Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barnard spent Sunday in Madison.

Mrs. P. Holmes left Saturday for Stoughton where she opened up a new laundry yesterday.

Blaine Davis, Miss Maud Hymers and Mr. and Mrs. T. Moran motored to Janesville Sunday.

Orfordville, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Maria Howe, who for the past three or four weeks has been visiting at the home of her son at Menomonie, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Jessie Kelley, who is one of the teachers in Valley school at Evansville, visited on Sunday at the home of her mother.

Mrs. A. O. Keesey is numbered among those who are sick.

A. J. Smiley, who has been making his home with his sister, Mrs. Bert Beck, has gone to Janesville and will spend some time there with his brother, F. P. Smiley.

Dr. T. W. Nuzum of Janesville was in the village for the time on Monday on professional business.

Miss Elsie Dann of Evansville is spending the week in the village, the guest of friends.

J. V. Chrysler of Brookhead was one of those from out of town who attended the banquet given by the local Odd Fellows' lodge on Saturday evening.

E. Skinner and P. T. Moore of Brookhead transacted business in the village Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Rime have moved into their new building, just outside of the village limits, in the town of Plymouth.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows gave their regular quarterly banquet on Saturday evening. An invitation had been extended to the Rebekahs to attend, which was accepted. There was a large attendance and a most entertaining time is reported.

George W. Leuk who has been at Mercy hospital since his serious accident which occurred several weeks ago, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return to his home in the town of Spring Valley. His many friends are extending congratulations and hoping for his entire recovery speedily.

Mrs. Ole Bonouet went to Janesville Monday afternoon, where she will enter Mercy hospital for treatment.

Dr. Mitchell of Brookhead came to Orfordville on Monday to look after some of Dr. Forbuck's patients.

Miss Pratt of Rockford is visiting friends in Orfordville. She is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dunn.

Whitewater News OFFICERS ELECTED FOR WOMEN'S CLUB

Whitewater Business District Workers Open Convin Year—Banquet and Choose Heads.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Whitewater, Oct. 6.—The Business Women's club met at the Guild hall on the evening of Oct. 1st, to hold their second banquet, which was served by the Daughters of the King. The tables were decorated with baskets of nasturtiums and there were baskets of other autumn flowers placed about the room. While the guests were gathering music was furnished by Miss Nora Wood and Clyde Pero on the piano and violin and they rendered some very pleasing selections during the repast, after which Miss Lizabette Vance, president, introduced Miss Nettie Sayles, of the normal school faculty, who spoke up on the subject of "Contentment," and gave some ideas worthy to be remembered.

Miss Sayles was followed by Miss John Scholl and Miss Florence Duncomb, who played a piano duet. Miss Vance next called upon Miss Margaret Wadde to recite, and she held her audience to the end. Mrs. Merton Fish, accompanied by Mrs. John Scholl, sang a couple of songs, and Miss Alice R. Marsh read a few selections from Mary Austin's "Promised Land," after which an informal election of officers occurred, the following being elected for the coming year:

President—Miss Clara Smith. Vice president—Miss Maud Niquet. Secretary—Miss Margaret Knight. Treasurer—Miss Alice Marsh.

A vote of thanks was given to the outgoing officers. Miss Irene Labadie Vance, Miss Norma Dutcher, Miss Irene Kyle and Miss Ella Hamilton, for their untiring efforts to make the club such a success. Miss Hamilton spent much time upon the place cards which were decorated with seaweed and sea shells and a pleasing quotation.

The opportunity to become better acquainted was indulged in by all the forty-six girls who were present. May there be more such occasions when the business women can mingle together.

On Good Basis. The society of the First Congregational church met Monday evening, and heard reports of the past year's work. The treasurer, J. N. Humphrey, showed that $2,782.87 had been collected, with less than $100 uncollected to clear up the past year's indebtedness. The society was formed that Mrs. Louisa Crittenden, who died in August, had willed $500 to the Congregational church, to be used as the trustees saw fit. It was the expression of those present that this be the beginning of an endowment fund and other gifts might be added to it from time to time. A resolution was passed to express the appreciation of the church to those administering the estate.

Milton, Oct. 6.—Mrs. C. M. Bliss died yesterday after a long illness at the home of her son, E. D. Bliss. Funeral services will be held at the house Wednesday afternoon.

Chicken pie social at the Congregational church, Tuesday, Nov. 3. Dr. C. E. Perry and wife departed from Milton Monday and will make Tomahawk their home for the present. Their removal is a matter of regret.

Harlow Clarke and wife of Janesville, visited Milton relatives Sunday. Judge J. D. Richmond of Lima Center was in town Sunday.

The W. V. L. club will hold its first meeting of the year on Thursday with Mrs. G. E. Crosey. The business session will be followed by a social hour.

Mrs. A. T. Chapman of Williamsburg, Va., was a guest of Mrs. W. W. Clarke Friday.

Jerome Boyington of Avalon, was visiting Milton relatives Friday. The family arrived in town Friday and will again make Milton his home, having bought the old Home farm, south of the village limits.

One Use of Adversity. Sweet are the uses of adversity, and this is one of them, it puts a bridle upon transgression and furnishes a spur for holiness.—Spurgeon.

ASTHMADOR GUARANTEED TO RELIEVE ASTHMA

"I have arranged with Smith's Pharmacy 14 West Milwaukee street, that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchial Asthma in Janesville can try my treatment entirely at my risk." Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. He says: "Buy a 50-cent package of my Asthmador, or Asthmador Cigarettes, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to Smith's Pharmacy and they will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same with others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador."

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

Ask About Dress Forms at Notion Dept. J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS. Every Woman Should Own A Dress Form